

PLATFORM WILL NOT MENTION MEXICO

Democratic Convention Will Cover Subject By Implication

TO DEFEND NEUTRALITY

Would Advocate Permanent Peace Tribunal as a Court of Arbitral Justice

MAY RE-DRAFT SUFFRAGE

BULLETIN

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 14.—While the Democratic resolutions committee was in session tonight, Samuel A. King of Utah, arose and made this statement:

"I called on William J. Bryan today and asked him if he would submit any plank. He replied: 'I have no plank to offer, but one, and that is the president's. Determine what he wants and his plank will be mine. I expect to go before the people in his behalf on your report.'"

ST. LOUIS, June 14.—Conferences among leaders which have followed the arrival of Secretary Baker with first hand words from President Wilson, on many features of the declaration of principles brought the status of the Democratic platform tonight to a point where aside from the all important issue of foreign affairs, it stood substantially as follows:

No specific mention would be made of Mexico, and that subject would be covered by implication, in general declarations outlining relations of the United States with other governments. This portion of the platform would declare unequivocally for the right of every nation to regulate its own internal affairs and would point out that this government would be satisfied with nothing less for itself.

To Deal With Citizens' Rights

Rights of American citizens would be dealt with in a long plank declaring for their protection at home and abroad. In a defense of American neutrality as strict and honest one of the provisions would make an apparent, altho not a specific reference to charges of partiality to the entente allies, and would point out that questions involving not life but only property can be settled by indemnity and reparation when the passions of war have subsided.

A permanent peace tribunal would be advocated in one of the platform planks as a court of arbitral justice to which all disputes between nations should be referred. How far the platform reflects the president's recent declaration of willingness to have the United States join a world league to enforce peace by a common police force is not yet determined.

While the platform would deal with the peaceful settlements of disputes between nations, it would be outspoken in its declaration that the navy should be of proportions and efficiency to make effective the Monroe Doctrine, and that the standing army should be of sufficient strength to secure the country against unexpected aggression.

Declare For Reserve Force

The platform in the same connection would declare for a sufficient reserve force to secure the nation against invasion and aggression at all times. Coupled with this declaration for a strong army and navy would be a straightforward pronouncement against all wars of aggrandizement and against violations of territorial aggression. This would be intended as a declaration to the world that the United States as the foremost spokesman for peace and judicial settlement of disputes, makes its military preparations not for aggression but for defense.

Touching internal questions the platform would declare for an eight hour day for working men and also civil service pensions with a declaration that the government should care for those upon whom it depends to man its operating machinery. One plan would deal with child labor and another would advocate legislation in the interest of labor in all government institutions.

Set Forth Legislative Record.

In several succeeding planks the legislative record of the administration would be set forth with references to the federal reserve law, the trade commission act, the shipping bill, the tariff commission bill, rural credits legislation and other measures passed by congress or now being pressed by the administration. Then the platform would contain a definite pronouncement that when the program now under way is completed there would be no more legislation which the business world could regard as restraining in short the business would be promised a rest from congressional interferences.

The draft as secretary Baker brought it from the white house

SUFFRAGISTS' HOPE FOR VICTORY BRIGHTER

CLOSE FIGHT FOR EQUAL RIGHT PLANK WITH DEMONSTRATION

Begin Final Drive on Members of Democratic Resolutions Committee—Big Question is What Form the Plank Will Take.

St. Louis, June 14.—The suffragists' fight for an equal right plank in the Democratic platform closed today with the "Golden Lane" demonstration, and tonight all camps began their final drive on members of the resolutions committee and the three cabinet members, Secretaries Baker, Daniels and Houston, who are here.

Hope for victory never was brighter with the suffragists, for the conviction that the platform will favor their movement grows hourly. The big question now is what form the plank will take. Whether it will be stronger than that contained in the Republican platform cannot be forecasted until the committee takes final action.

President Wilson, among others has submitted a plank to the committee, but tonight it was said that there was much doubt if it would be written into the platform. While the committee had not passed formally on the president's plank, the opinion was expressed by several members that it was not specific enough to be effective and a plank of stronger wording should be inserted.

A plank approved by Secretary Daniels also has found opposition in the National American Woman Suffrage Association, because it is considered too long. Its text, declaring in favor of immediate passage by Congress of a constitutional amendment, however, is favored by both the national and the women's party.

Representative Raker of California, a member of the committee, said tonight that he was trying to assemble the ideas of all the suffragists and express them in a plank which he would offer later. He believes the committee will insert a plank at least as strong as that presented by the Republican platform, but he favors a much stronger one.

Suffragists won an early victory in the resolution committee tonight, when Mrs. Arthur Dodge and other anti-suffragists, were compelled to present their opposition before the suffragists were heard. This course was followed on the motion of Senator Hollis of New Hampshire, over the determined opposition of former State Senator Nugent of New Jersey. The nationals, women's party and Southern States Suffrage conference delegations at the hearing were headed by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Miss Ann Martin and Miss Kate M. Gordon, respectively.

The "Golden Lane" demonstration, staged by the nationals today, was the most elaborate and picturesque suffragist display ever given in St. Louis. Several thousand women, variously estimated from 6,000 to 8,600, garbed in yellow sashes and bearing yellow suffragist banners and umbrellas, formed a lane on both sides of Locust street between the Jefferson Hotel and the convention hall for Democratic delegates to pass thru on the way to the convention. The women were stationed four feet apart, facing the center of the street. They did not march save more than a few hundred feet toward the close of the demonstration. Chairs were provided for every woman, but only a few of them were used.

The demonstration was far from "talkless" as it had been advertised. For just a few minutes after it started, the women stood up straight, face forward and did not say a word. Then they began to shift about uneasily and show decided inclinations to step over and have a word with their neighbors. And the men folks who came along seemed interested in what they wanted to talk with the workers.

So in a very short time all good resolutions and promises of silence, to "General" Undergraff, went away and the talk started. Camp chairs, provided for the weary, were chiefly closer to each other and everybody indulged in a few sociable remarks. The conversation never became loud, but none of the workers shouted at passing delegations, which really was the result that the "general" wanted to attain. She desired a dignified display and it was all of that.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS OF STATE OPEN ENCAMPMENT

CHICAGO, June 14.—The thirtieth annual encampment of the United States War Veterans of Illinois began here tonight with the opening of department headquarters. The first meeting of the veterans will be held in Masonic Hall, East 64th street and Woodlawn avenue, tomorrow morning.

Captain Edward H. White will call the encampment to order. Addresses of welcome will be delivered by Mayor Thompson, W. J. Calhoun, commander of Bob Evans Camp, and Olivia R. Reid, president of the Auxiliaries of the department of Illinois. A reception and military ball for delegates will be held tomorrow night.

WILSON DELIVERS FLAG DAY SPEECH

Charge Foreign Born Citizens Are Trying to Levy Political Blackmail

MUST CRUSH DISLOYALTY

Executive Sounds Keynote of the Foremost Issues of His Campaign

LEADS PREPAREDNESS PARADE

WASHINGTON, June 14.—A charge that foreign-born citizens of the United States are trying to levy political blackmail and undermine the influence of the national government was made by President Wilson in a flag day speech here today. His assertion sounded the keynote of one of the foremost issues on which he will go before the country for re-election, and touched upon a platform declaration which will be submitted by the administration to the St. Louis convention.

Leads Preparedness Parade.

The president spoke before a crowd of thousands gathered at the foot of the Washington monument, after he had reviewed for five hours a great preparedness parade at the head of which he himself had marched down Pennsylvania avenue. He declared that not since the civil war had it been tested as it now is being tested whether the stars and stripes stood for any one united purpose.

"There is disloyalty active in the United States and it must be absolutely crushed," declared the president, speaking emphatically. "It proceeds from a minority, a very small minority, but a very active and subtle minority."

"It works under ground, but it also shows its ugly head where we can see it; and there are those at this moment who are trying to levy a species of political blackmail, saying, 'Do what we wish in the interest of foreign sentiment or we will wreak our vengeance at the polls,' which the American nation will turn with a might and triumph of sentiment which will teach these gentlemen once for all that loyalty to this flag is the first test of tolerance in the United States."

Words Are Taken as Challenge.

The president's words were taken as an open challenge to foreign-born Americans who, he had learned from foreign language newspapers and other sources, are opposing him for re-election. Officials close to him said he was outlining his stand on what he had determined to make a predominant issue in his campaign. While the Democratic convention was being opened at St. Louis, Mr. Wilson devoted the entire day to the flag day and preparedness demonstration. Carrying a large American flag, he walked from the capitol to the White house at the head of more than 50,000 marchers, including many high government officials, employees of all the government departments and of the capitol's business houses, companies of cadets, national guardsmen, union and confederate veterans and members of commercial and social organizations.

Starts from Capitol Grounds

The parade started from the capitol grounds, and as its head passed the White House the president dropped out and took his place in the reviewing stand. He was joined there by Secretaries McAdoo, Redfield, Lane and Wilson, Postmaster General Burleson and Attorney General Gregory, who had marched at the head of employees of their departments, and by Secretary Lansing. As soon as the last marchers passed the stand, five hours later, the president went to the Monument Grounds, where his address formed the principal part of an hour's exercises.

Almost every man and woman in the president's audience carried an American flag. Before he began speaking, cannon fired a national salute of 21 guns and the marine band played the "Star Spangled Banner," while a huge flag was drawn slowly to the top of the white monument, 555 feet above the ground. Secretary Lansing presided and in introducing the president emphasized the duty of present-day Americans to preserve unsullied ideals handed down by the founders of the republic.

President Wilson's Address.

In his address the president said: "Mr. Secretary, ladies and gentlemen: 'I have not come here this afternoon with the purpose of delivering to you an elaborate address. It seems to me that the day is sufficiently eloquent already with the meaning which it should convey to us. The spectacle of the morning has been a very moving spectacle

FILE TWO DAMAGE SUITS AGAINST CUNARD STEAMSHIP COMPANY

New Allegations of Negligence in Connection With Sinking of Lusitania Are Contained in Complaint.

New York, June 14.—Entirely new allegations of negligence against the Cunard Steamship company in connection with the sinking of the Lusitania by a German submarine on May 7, 1915, were contained in complaints filed here today in two damage suits instituted in behalf of the survivors of the tragedy. The steamship company is charged with wilfully placing the lives of the vessel's passengers in danger. The cargo carried by the Lusitania, together with the belligerent appearance given the vessel by a covering of gray paint, invited the submarine attack, according to allegations in the complaints.

The suits are for $50,000 each and were filed by John M. Nolan, an attorney representing Sarah Lund, the widow of Charles H. Lund, and William E. Mounsey and other heirs of William Mounsey. Lund and Mounsey lost their lives by the sinking of the Lusitania. The plaintiffs in both cases are residents of Illinois.

According to the complaints, parts of submarines, guns, ammunition, consisting of cartridges, gun cotton, nitroglycerine and dynamite were part of the ship's cargo and were being transported for use in "hostile operations against the German empire."

Troops and soldiers on their way to join the armies of Great Britain also were aboard the Lusitania at the time of the attack the complaints allege. The complaints also declare that the concussion of the torpedo explosion caused various explosions among the cargo of munitions, and "the disturbance occasioned thereby in the several parts of the ship caused her to founder and sink."

At a meeting of survivors of the Lusitania and relatives of those who perished on the ship, held here on April 26, the charge was made by J. L. Myers a lace importer, that German agents had offered him $50,000 if he would bring suit against the Cunard line in an attempt to place part of the blame for the disaster upon England.

ILLINOIS EAGLES NOMINATE OFFICERS TO BE VOTED ON TODAY

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., June 14.—Delegates to the session of the Illinois Aerie of Fraternal Order of Eagles, in annual meeting here, said tonight that there was little doubt Bloomington would be selected tomorrow as the convention city for 1917, Quincy and Joliet having withdrawn from the contest.

For inside guard—A. R. Elrich, Galesburg.

For outside guard—M. McGinnis, Jacksonville; Fred W. Biesman, Galena.

For delegate to national convention—C. W. Harris, Ft. Dearborn; George Schottes, Joliet.

GLYNN DELIVERS KEYNOTE ADDRESS

Asserts Administration's Policy is Just as American as the Flag

CHEERING STOPS SPEECH

Convention Emphatically Registers Approval of Wilson's Conduct of Foreign Affairs

COMMITTEES GO INTO SESSION

ST. LOUIS, June 14.—The Democratic National convention at its first session today heard the keynote of Americanism and peace, preparedness and prosperity sounded by former Governor Glynn of New York as temporary chairman and, with a high pitch of enthusiasm emphatically registered by demonstration after demonstration its approval of President Wilson's peaceful conduct of foreign affairs.

Cites Historic Parallels.

The convention which had gotten under way with such perfunctory demonstrations as mark every national gathering of the kind, soon stirred itself into roaring cheers as Chairman Glynn cited historic parallels to show that other presidents, including Republicans had adjusted threatening foreign situations without resort to war.

"The policy of the administration," he declared, "has been just as American as the American flag itself."

He went down the list of presidents recounting their action to avoid war. The delegates caught the spirit of his argument and as he referred to each particular president some delegate would call:

"What did he do?"

"He settled the trouble by negotiation," was the reply which Glynn invariably returned and the convention would roar its approval.

William J. Bryan, as a newspaper correspondent in the press stand, wept with emotion as Glynn pictured the victories of peace but he laughed with the crowd when a Texas delegate interrupting Glynn, leaped to his chair and cried:

"And don't forget that policy also is satisfactory to William Jennings Bryan."

Aside from a sixteen minute demonstration when Chairman Glynn predicted President Wilson's re-election, Glynn's speech was sprinkled with demonstrations which he found it difficult to stem, so he could go on. It was plain that the telling points on the delegates were the recital of President Wilson's efforts to keep the country at peace.

"This policy," he said, "may not satisfy the fire-eater and the swash-buckler. But it does satisfy the mothers of the land at whose hearth and fireside, no jingoistic war has placed an empty chair. It does satisfy the daughters of this land from whom bluster and brag have sent no loving brother to the dissolution of the grave. It does satisfy the fathers of this land and the sons of this land who will fight for our flag and die for our flag when reason primes the rifle; when honor draws the sword and when justice breathes a blessing on the standard they uphold."

The last of the words were drowned out in a roar of applause that swept the coliseum.

"Repeat it," cried the delegates; "repeat it."

"All right, be quiet and I'll repeat it," responded Glynn and he did to applause and cheering.

No other president since the civil war, Glynn told the convention, had faced such crucial problems, none had displayed a grasp of statesmanship more profound.

"Whether the course the country has pursued during this crucial period is to be continued and whether the principles that have been asserted as our national policy shall be endorsed or withdrawn," Glynn told the convention, was the paramount question for the voter to decide. "No lesser issue must cloud it," he said, "no unrelated problems must confuse it."

Committees Go into Session.

After hearing the keynote speech the convention adjourned until 11 o'clock tomorrow. Committees then went into session to prepare their work for the session.

Today the big coliseum, holding about 12,000 people, practically was filled and despite a constantly rising temperature it was fairly comfortable. On their way to the convention hall, the delegates passed between lines of suffragettes spread along twelve blocks of Locust street, the most travelled route to the Coliseum. The suffragettes seated on chairs ranged along the curbs were arrayed in white and yellow and held yellow parasols. The waving lines of yellow gave the demonstration the popular name of "Golden Lane."

HEAR FOUR WITNESSES AT TRIAL OF ORPET

WILLIAM MARSHALL UNDERGOES SEARCHING CROSS-EXAMINATION

Golf Professional is Questioned as to Foot Prints in Helm's Wood Where Body Was Found—Two Doctors Believe Poison Was Taken In Liquid Form.

Waukegan, Ill., June 14.—William Marshall, a ruddy cheeked golf professional employed at the Onwentsia Country Club at Lake Forest, was the principal witness today at the trial of Will H. Orpet on a charge of murdering Marion Lambert.

Other witnesses were Dr. John L. Taylor, coroner of Lake county; James P. King, city clerk of Lake Forest and a member of the Board of County Supervisors and Dr. B. M. Parmenter, who said he had known Marion practically all of her life.

Dr. Taylor and Dr. Parmenter expressed the opinion that the cyanide of potassium which caused Marion's death was taken in liquid form. Neither had made microscopic examination of the white powder incriminated on the palm of the girl's right hand or on her cheek, but Dr. Taylor said that he believed that the firmness with which the powder adhered to the flesh indicated that it had been deposited from a liquid which had evaporated.

Dr. Parmenter established the fact that Marion was ill in January, as he was called in twice on January 14th. He found nothing serious in her condition and regarded it as comparatively normal he said. Marshall was on the stand all afternoon undergoing a searching cross-examination as to the foot prints in Helm's woods where the body was found.

It was a laborious process, due, according to Attorney Ralph Potter, of the defense, to contradictions of the testimony of Marshall on this point with that of others who were in the woods on February 10.

"The state contends that Orpet returned to the body of the girl, reaching this conclusion by the foot prints in the snow," explained Attorney Potter. "As a matter of fact he ran away as straight and as fast as he could and never returned until taken there by State's Attorney Dady. The discrepancies in the testimony of the state's footprint observers therefore is of importance."

With reference to the state's contention that the poison was liquid and therefore must have been brought into the woods in a bottle Marshall said picnic parties frequent the woods and that there were hundreds if not thousands of empty bottles of all descriptions scattered about. Tomorrow the state may place on the stand some of the girls who attended Marion's eighteenth birthday party to contradict the testimony of Josephine Davis.

ROOSEVELT UNDERGOES X-RAY EXAMINATION IN NEW YORK

Characterizes Trouble as "Possibly a Slight Breaking of the Muscles" Around Rib Which Was Broken Last Year.

New York, June 14.—Theodore Roosevelt underwent an X-ray examination here today for what he characterized as "possibly a slight breaking of the muscles" around the rib which was broken when he was thrown from a horse May 24, 1915. Fears that the former president had suffered a heart attack were allayed tonight when he received several newspaper correspondents.

Col. Roosevelt explained that he contracted a severe cold while returning several months ago from a trip to the West Indies and that at the intervals since then he had been subjected to coughing spells. One of these occurred this morning when he and Mrs. Roosevelt accompanied by their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Derby, motored to a steamship pier to meet Kermit Roosevelt an dthe latter's wife, who returned from South America on the United States army transport Kilpatrick.

Colonel Roosevelt again refused to discuss politics. He said however, that after lunching with Raymond Robins, who was chairman of the Progressive National Convention and Harold L. Ickes, Progressive national committeeman for Illinois, he had received Gov. Hiram Johnson of California in his rooms and that they talked for an hour.

The former president will not return to his home at Oyster Bay until the result of the X-ray examination on his left side has been disclosed.

INCREASE SUPERINTENDENT'S POWER

Chicago, June 14.—By amendment to the rules at a meeting today the Board of Education increased the power of the superintendent of schools in dealing with the teaching force. The avowed purpose of amendment to the rules is to weed out a large number of incompetent teachers. Labor leaders and others attended the meeting in opposition to the amendment, but when a demonstration was begun they were warned by the president of the board that the room would be cleared unless quiet was maintained. The vote by which the increased power was given to the superintendent was 11 to 6.

RUSSIANS ADVANCE ABOUT 20 MILES

Petrograd Asserts Enemy is Being Driven Back Along Entire Front

TAKE MANY PRISONERS

Fighting Around Verdun Dwindles to Intermittent Bombardment

ITALIANS REPULSE AUSTRIANS

An advance of about 20 miles by the Russians, who have Czernowitz as their objective, is chronicled in the latest Russian official statement. Having previously crossed the Dniester River and taken Horodenka and ale Ssyzky, the Russians have now driven their men to the left bank of the river Pruth and captured the town of Sniatyn, which lies only twenty miles northwest of the Bukovina capital.

No Cessation of Offensive.

Nowhere on the front from the Pripet river in Russia and through Galicia to Bukovina has there been any cessation in the great Russian offensive. Along the entire line, according to the Russian war office, the Austro-Hungarians and Germans are being driven back and the Russians are still taking thousands of prisoners and capturing guns, machine guns and war supplies.

In the eleven days' drive, 1,780 officers and 120,000 men and 130 guns and 260 machine guns have been captured.

On the lower end of the German line in Russia, to the north of Baranovich, the Russians evidently have anticipated the proposed German offensive and taken the initiative into their own hands. Here, after violent artillery preparations, they seven times essayed to storm the German lines. Berlin says, however, that all their efforts failed and that they were repulsed with heavy losses.

The fighting around Verdun has dwindled to intermittent bombardments, there having been no infantry attacks anywhere on this front since Thursday, when French positions west and south of Thiaumont farm, were captured by the Germans and 793 Frenchmen made prisoners. The Canadians around Zillebeke in Belgium are holding to the 1,500 yards of ground recaptured from the German Tuesday, although the Germans are heavily shelling them. No infantry attacks have been carried out by the Teutons.

Italians Repulse Austrians.

The latest advices from the Austro-Italian war theatre credit the Italians with repulsing violent Austrian attacks on the Posina front northwest of Schio. On the other sectors of the line the Austrians are bombarding the Italian positions. Their German auxiliary cruiser Hermann has been attacked and sunk in the Baltic, southeast of Stockholm, by four Russian torpedo boat destroyers, according to Berlin. Reports from Sweden and Denmark concerning the fight say that it was between Russian torpedo craft and a German auxiliary cruiser, some torpedo boats and armed trawlers which were conveying German merchantmen. In addition to the auxiliary cruiser and a German destroyer, twelve of the merchantmen are reported to have been sunk.

It is anticipated in London that David Lloyd-George will take the place of the late Earl Kitchener as British secretary of war. In case Mr. Lloyd-George accepts the portfolio, it is not believed that he will give up entirely his present duties as minister of munitions.

The crowd at the Democratic National Convention forced Mr. Glynan to repeat a part of his address, drowned in applause, in which he declared that the men of America "will fight and die for our flag when reason primes the rifle, when honor draws the sword and when justice breathes a blessing on the cause they uphold."

The Sop to Progressives

While the framers of the Democratic platform will undoubtedly endeavor to include a plank intended as a direct bid for the Progressive vote, the result is not likely to be of large importance to the Republican party. Since the Republican platform includes all those policies which the Progressives have deemed essential, whatever need there may have existed for the third party has now disappeared. As a matter of fact, a very great percentage of the members of the Progressive party were simply the devout followers of Colonel Roosevelt, and when he expressed his satisfaction with the Republican candidate and platform, there remained nothing for them but to give like approval. Practically all of the leaders of the Progressive party have already expressed their confidence in Mr. Hughes and so the Democratic bid for Progressive support need not be looked upon with undue seriousness.

Democrats and Suffragists

Aside from the desire of Democrats to include in their platform a plank more satisfactory to the suffragists than that adopted by the Republican party, there has been the desire to attract support in the suffrage states and to give recognition to the women delegates to the convention. While there were only two or three women in the Republican convention, there are twenty-three who have seats as delegates or alternates in the Democratic convence. They form a courageous band of workers among the 1,092 delegates and as many alternates, seated on the arena floor. Of the number fourteen are delegates and so will cast their ballots in the nominations and in expressing their opinion of the platform. It is noteworthy that three out of the eleven states that have granted full suffrage to women have sent no women delegates to the convention. The three states thus neglecting their rights are Oregon, Nevada and Montana.

Rippling Rhymes
By WALT MASON

FORSAKEN.

I go my weary course alone, abhorred and shunned where'er I'm known. No maidens smile when I draw near, but from my path they shrink with fear. For me there is no outstretched hand, no welcome smile in all the land. There is no lamp alight for me, no children climb upon my knee. Alone, alone, all alone! The gray world has a heart of stone, and I am left to its pariah, while they live, I long to join the busy throng that moves in joyous haste along; I long to take my place again, and mingle with my fellowmen, but if I make a slight advance, I find the outcast with anger fraught, "Go, Ishmael, we want you not!" Perhaps when I am gone to rest and grass is green above my breast, some pilgrim, bending o'er my tomb, will say, "We drove him to his doom!" Though dark and wicked his offense, his punishment was too intense. We drove him from his kind away, for eating onions every day!

Though dark and wicked his offense, his punishment was too intense. We drove him from his kind away, for eating onions every day!

DATES IN ILLINOIS HISTORY.

June 15, 1764—The regular French garrison, under De Villiers, evacuated Fort de Chartres. A detachment of forty men, however, remained to make the formal transfer of the post to the British.

tion in St. Louis. The number of persons who stood in front of the bulletin board to read the dispatches was indicative of the comparative interest between the Republican and Democratic national conventions. At no time Wednesday afternoon were more than four or five persons found reading dispatches.

The reasons, of course, was not lack of interest in Democratic affairs but because there was the knowledge in advance as to just exactly what the St. Louis convention will do. President Wilson arranged all the important details of the convention, chose the principal officers, is said to have seen the final factor in outlining the platform and in truth it is a one-man convention that is now in progress. McCutcheon in the Chicago Tribune well emphasized this idea in a cartoon in which he depicted President Wilson at his desk in Washington with a telephone in one hand and a gavel in the other. Underneath were the significant words, "The convention will please come to order."

Our Colleges.

The annual report of President Rammekamp presented at the eighty-seventh commencement exercises held Wednesday, gives much to be thankful for in the history of the institution and indicates still greater things to expect as the future unfolds. It is the announced intention of the college management to secure an additional fund of $300,000 and a sum of $25,000 has already been secured as a good step toward the increased endowment is wholly within reason, measured by the growth and success of the college during recent years under the guidance of President Rammekamp, who has been an indefatigable worker, with a never-dying enthusiasm for the college ever since he assumed the presidency. The graduating class yesterday was the largest that the institution has ever known, and the increases in attendance have been such from year to year that the prediction is confidently made that within a comparatively few years the enrollment total will be five hundred.

One of the best things about the increased enrollment is that such increase also marks the growth of college equipment and facilities. So with the larger number of students there will come more buildings, larger grounds and necessarily a wider field of influence and usefulness for the college. Jacksonville has great reason for pride in Illinois college, just as it has in the other educational institutions of the city. They were referred to recently as constituting a great business asset in the community, and that is true. But as an asset for the up-building of strong, healthy, well-ordered citizenship, they have a still greater value to this community. For as their good influences spread abroad, it is inevitable that the territory nearest the college—that is, Jacksonville—must receive the first benefit.

Whiskers, Republicans and Victory

(St. Louis Globe)

A growth of hair on the face has always been held to be a sign of superior strength, for the reason, no doubt, that it distinguishes the stronger sex. Nobody ever has hinted that a man incapable of hair-growth on his face would be a man fit to trust in an emergency of any kind. He might hide such evidence of his masculinity with the aid of a razor, but if offering himself for the discharge of any important trust he had best give a guarantee of manly qualification by letting nature speak in his face, with such modifications as his taste may suggest. The Republican party, at least, has almost uniformly selected, for its presidential candidates, men willing to offer their country this pledge.

Whiskers, if we include mustaches in the meaning of that generic word, have waved in every Republican administration but one. The party began running to whiskers before it got into the White House. Its first candidate, Fremont, was a bewhiskered soldier. Its second candidate and first president, Lincoln, could not have won the hearts of the Illinois pioneers with a smooth face. Nearly 10,000 more Illinoisans preferred him before the smooth-shaven Douglas in the senatorial race of 1858. Andrew Johnson, who succeeded Lincoln in the presidency, but not by Republican choice for that office, made an interregnum in a whiskered history, but after him came flowing tides of hair on the face. Grant's whiskers were famous, but less luxuriant than those of Hayes, coming after him, and the whiskers of Hayes were overshadowed by those of Garfield. But for luxuriance, waviness, and mobility of expression, the whiskers of Arthur transcended all others. True to its traditions, the party nominated the whiskered Blaine to succeed Arthur and not even his defeat, the first party defeat in nearly a generation, did not shake Republican faith in facial integuments, a faith that was justified when, four years later, it nominated and elected Harrison.

Its only smooth-faced candidate in sixty years was McKinley. In renominating him it nominated the mustached Roosevelt for a second place, and after electing Roosevelt to the first place, it nominated Taft, with a well-thatched upper lip. This year it again runs true to form in the nomination of Hughes. The party is playing to the line of its old and long run of luck, with men whose faces carried pledges. The whiskers of Hughes rank with the best in the long Republican presidential line. And this time the Republican whisker is not called to face a Democratic one, but a candidate whose face is as void of vegetation as the moon, the face of the moon. In hoc signo vinces.

TRI-CLASS LEAGUE HELD BANQUET WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Class Membership Well Represented—Officers for 1916 Chosen.

The Tri Class league of Illinois college, consisting of the classes of 1899, 1900 and 1901, held their reunion Wednesday evening at the Peacock Inn with twenty members present. Following the banquet an informal toast program was indulged in, which included every one of those present and many were the reminiscences of college days related. Letters were read from a number of members of the league unable to be present. A member of the class of '01 presented to the league a souvenir secured by his class on the college campus in 1897, and which later became the property of Beta Theta Beta, a fraternity which had life for a few years only. This relic, which had an important place in the secret rites of the fraternity, has been carefully guarded all the years, and its whereabouts have been known to only a few since its disappearance from the hill. Now the relic has been transferred to the archives of the Tri Class league. While it is impossible to give details of the relic, it is known to be of such form and material that it is possible for the president of the Tri Class league to use it as a gavel.

In addition to recounting those college experiences which were held in lasting memory, the young men gathered for the banquet last night also took a look into the future and outlined somewhat ambitious plans for the triennial to be held three years hence. Officers were chosen as follows:

President—T. W. Eadie, Jacksonville.

Vice president—C. O. Shunk, Freeport.

Treasurer—Thomas V. Hopper, Jacksonville.

Secretary—Arthur D. Fairbank, Jacksonville.

Others present were Fred Coleman, New York City; H. J. Dunbaugh, and Victor Nelson, Chicago; A. H. Ramfin and C. J. Barber, Springfield; P. G. Capps, Ft. Davis, Tex.; Dr. W. P. Duncan, H. D. Dobyns, H. J. Capps, Dr. George Stacy, John Kearns, Dr. A. H. Dolbear, Prof. T. P. Carter, Prof. J. G. Ames, F. L. Gregory and Albert C. Metcalf.

Jacksonville Lodge No. 570 A. F. and A. M. will hold a stated meeting to-night at 7:30. Visiting brethren welcome.

MORTUARY

Sappington.

Mrs. Rhoda A. Sappington of 727 Hardin avenue died at Passavant hospital Wednesday morning at 12:10 o'clock, after an illness of five weeks. She had been in failing health for many years.

Rhoda A. Six was the daughter of Calvin and Amanda Six and was born in Oxxville, Scott county, January 15, 1854. She was united in marriage at Winchester to Clayton Sappington October 27, 1874. To this union five children were born, two of whom preceded her in death. She is survived by her husband and the following children: Mrs. Albie Towning, Peoria; Benjamin Sappington, St. Louis, and Mrs. Lulu Davis, Peoria. The following brothers and sisters also survive: Mrs. Martha Crews of this city, Mrs. Ida Jetties of Peoria, Mrs. Mary Smith, Peoria, Benjamin Six, Peoria, James Six and John Six of Oklahoma.

Mrs. Sappington was a lifelong member of the Methodist church and for many years was a member of the Centenary. She was a woman of splendid Christian character and bore her long years of suffering with patient resignation. Funeral services will be held from the residence, 727 Hardin avenue, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Henry.

Mrs. O. C. Henry died Wednesday evening at 11 o'clock at her home in East St. Louis after an illness, which had confined her to her bed for the past six months. Mrs. Henry was a resident of Jacksonville for a number of years, removing to East St. Louis about a year ago. According to a message received last night by relatives, the body will be sent for burial to Pittsfield, the girlhood home of the deceased.

Mrs. Henry's maiden name was Mary Halpin and she was married to Oliver C. Henry twenty-five years ago. Besides the husband, there survive a brother, John Halpin, north of Pittsfield and two sisters, Mrs. James Dillon of East St. Louis and Mrs. Ernest Voigtlander of Pittsfield, Ill.

J. T. Laws passed away Monday at his home in Pasadena, California, according to word received by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Harriet Melton of North Church street. Mr. Laws was long a resident of Waverly but for the past fourteen years has made California his home. He was born near Exeter. For several months Mr. Laws has been in failing health.

Surviving Mr. Laws are the widow and one son, J. E. Laws, who was on his way to Washburn, Ill., to be married to Miss Gail Watt, when the death of his father occurred. Miss Anna Laws, a sister, and Miss Lucy Laws, a niece, reside in Waverly.

DAMAGED GOODS

Manager Harold J. Johnson of the Grand received word Wednesday that Damaged Goods had been booked for a return engagement at the Grand Monday June 19. The picture was here a few weeks ago and attracted large audiences and there has been an insistent demand for its return. The picture teaches a great moral lesson and one that it would be well for all classes to heed.

GIRL CONFESSES THAT FIVE YOUNG MEN SHOT POLICEMAN

Story Involves Two Other Girls and Five Young Men Using Two Autos—One Officer Is Killed—Second Is Seriously Wounded.

Chicago, June 14.—Five young men, composing two bands of automobile thieves, were the ones who shot and killed Motorcycle Policeman Herman Malow and seriously wounded Motorcycle Policeman Thure Lindhe of Oak Park early this morning, according to a confession made tonight by Grace Lyttle, a companion of the men who fired on the officers when encountered by them.

Miss Lyttle is eighteen years old, and the story she told of the "joy ride" which resulted in murder involved two other girls, and five young men, using two automobiles. Captain Charles Larken, at the conclusion of the girl's story, released seven suspected persons who had been taken by the police during the day on suspicion of complicity in the policeman's murder and the robbery by auto bandits of an automobile party in another section of the west division.

Captain Larken said that he expected to have in custody before morning the two girls and the young men mentioned in the alleged confession of Miss Lyttle.

ROBUR HELD ANNUAL BUSINESS SESSION

Illinois College Fraternity Plan for 25th Anniversary—New Officers and Members.

The annual breakfast of Robur, Illinois college fraternity, was held Wednesday morning at 7:30 o'clock at the Dunlap. Officers were chosen for the ensuing year as follows:

Rex silvae, king of the forest—U. W. Wright, Carrollton.

Principes silvae—Ralph I. Dunlap, Jacksonville.

Custus foliorum—Arthur D. Fairbank, Jacksonville.

Custus glandium—W. G. Goebel, Jacksonville.

Pontifex maximus—C. M. Eames, Jacksonville.

Various matters of interest to the fraternity were discussed, particularly the twenty-fifth anniversary which is to be observed this year.

This celebration will take place October 20, when it is expected that representatives of all classes chosen since Robur was organized will be present.

The date fixed for the observance is that on which the Illinois-St. Louis university football game will be played, and is chosen for that reason. When Robur was organized it was a part of the constitution that not more than five members of each graduating class might be elected to the fraternity.

In every succeeding year since that time members have been chosen and save in two or three instances five has been the number, so that the total Robur membership is now about 120.

Members of the class of 1916 elected to membership yesterday were Clifford Dixon, Edward Alexander, Thomas Mangner, Ernest Alford and Edward Bullard.

These young men were initiated last night and the various "stunts" they were put thru attracted attention from many observers.

One of the candidates spent hours in a tree on the college campus, a second stood with a lighted candle at the campus entrance, a third was stationed in a tree in the grounds of Academy Hall and the other two, blindfolded, took part in an imitation track meet.

OFFICERS OF BATTERY A, I. N. G. SEND RESIGNATIONS TO DICKSON

DANVILLE, Ill., June 4.—All officers of Battery A, Illinois National Guard, of this city, today forwarded their resignation to Adjutant General Frank S. Dickson. Later a statement was issued that the chamber of commerce would undertake to reorganize and place the battery at full war strength as required by government, and then try to secure an armory building for Danville.

The battery was organized in 1875 and has been in continuous existence since, making it probably the oldest battery in Illinois. It was sent to Porto Rico during the Spanish-American war, and was unlimbered ready to fire upon a force of Spaniards when word that peace had been declared was received.

WATERWAY COMMISSIONERS SEEK TO COMPEL PAYMENT OF SALARIES

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 14.—Members of the Illinois Deep Waterway commission filed a motion in the Supreme Court today to file a petition for a writ of mandamus to compel State Treasurer Andrew Russell and Auditor of Public Accounts James J. Fracy to pay them their salaries. These have been held up pending the result of a petition in the Sangamon County Circuit court for an injunction to prevent the carrying out of the provisions of the waterway act passed by the last legislature.

MAY KAME HILLES' SUCCESSOR AT CONFERENCE NEXT TUESDAY

Arrangements for Conference with Charles E. Hughes Are Made by W. Murray Crane.

New York, June 14.—Charles D. Hilles' successor as chairman of the Republican National Committee will be selected, in all likelihood, at a conference here next Monday between Charles E. Hughes, the presidential nominee, W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts, chairman of the national subcommittee on organization, and as many of the other seven members of the sub-committee as can be present.

Arrangements for the conference were made late today by Mr. Crane. It was also announced the managers of the Hughes campaign probably will be selected then and the personnel of the executive committee will be discussed. The sub-committee is empowered to name the chairman and the executive committee.

In the meantime Mr. Hughes will continue his informal conferences here with party leaders and his reception of old and new friends and supporters. The longest conference he held today was with George W. Wickersham, attorney general in President Taft's cabinet, who will take an active part in the campaign management.

WILL LIMIT SPEECHES.

St. Louis, June 14.—If more than one speech succeeding each nomination for vice president is made in the Democratic convention, they will all but be limited to five minutes by a rule adopted tonight by a subcommittee on rules.

W. A. Glasgow, Jr., of Pennsylvania was chosen chairman of the committee. The rules of the House of Representatives were adopted to govern the convention.

Morrison Worthington who has been attending Cornell university the past year is expected to arrive home Friday to spend the summer vacation.

PLATFORM WILL NOT MENTION MEXICO

made no claims for general approval of the president's course for "peace and prosperity but the president's friends are determined that the platform would not be complete without a strong presentment on that point and Senator Huston of Wisconsin was assigned to prepare a plank, with the suggestion that it be drafted in terms sufficiently strong to make it one of the keynotes of the campaign.

May Re-draft Suffrage Plank
A plank on woman suffrage which was suggested by the president himself probably will be redrafted. Some of the resolutions committee members were of the opinion that it might be regarded as not sufficiently definite. Indications tonight are that the plank will be not unlike the republican plank, recognizing the right of suffrage for women but holding to the right of the states to regulate the ballot themselves.

The platform committee organized today by electing Senator Stone chairman, and Lewis T. Hicken of South Dakota, secretary. It started public hearings with President Governors of the American Federation of Labor, who presented sixteen planks similar to those offered to the Republicans at Chicago last week. Before taking a recess for dinner it had listened to advocates of planks against militarism and representatives of the Woman's Peace Party. Senator Stone said he did not know whether the prohibition forces would present their views to the committee. He said the subcommittee of nine, which will do the real work of making the platform, with President Wilson's own draft as a basis, would not be appointed until the entire committee finishes the open hearings.

Telegraphs Plank on Americanism
President Wilson's plank on Americanism, for the democratic platform, practically charging a conspiracy by some foreign born citizens to influence foreign and internal affairs for the benefit of other governments and condemning any organizations countenancing such movements as well as any political party which by failure to repudiate such a conspiracy, receives the benefit of it at the ballot box, was telegraphed here tonight from Washington and placed before Democratic leaders.

There was very guarded talk about the president's plank tonight because all the leaders agreed that practically everything depended upon the phraseology in which it finally found its way into the platform and they did not propose to risk any breaks which might prove embarrassing later. The convention's boundless enthusiasm today whenever the issue of Americanism was touched upon gave evidence that the president's plank would go into the platform in some terms, but it is certain to be the subject of extended and careful deliberations.

Representative Rainey of Illinois, who is leading the administration fight in the House for the tariff commission bill, will draw the tariff plank. Besides praising the present tariff law, it is planned to declare for a protective tariff for the dyestuff industry for a period of probably five years. Some of the Democrats expect a contest in the committee over such a protective feature but it will be pointed out that no dyestuff industry of proportions now exists in America and that the duties are intended solely to protect a new industry from the dumping of European dyes which is expected to follow the war and the resumption of ocean transportation from the central powers.

CONTINUANCE OF CONFERENCE HINGES ON RAILROAD MANAGERS

NEW YORK, June 14—A continuance of the conference between representatives of 350,000 railroad workers and their employers, called to avert a possible general strike involving all the roads in the United States hinged tonight upon the decision of the railroad managers as to whether they would offer a specific compromise to the demands of their employees. The men flatly rejected today the railroad's tentative compromise proposal and adjournment was taken until tomorrow when the managers will report whether they are prepared to make a definite proposition.

Late tonight Elisha Lee announced that after a ten hour conference the managers had arrived at a decision which will be reported to the men tomorrow afternoon.

CAPTURE BANDIT BELIEVED TO BE GUILTY OF CHICAGO HOLDUP

TOLEDO O., June 14—Police tonight stated that they believed they have captured the bandit who several months ago held up a tourist office in Chicago loop district and killed Patrolman Bror Johnson. The suspect late this afternoon entered a bank in the Western outskirt of the city and at the point of a gun ordered the cashier, O. A. Waldvogel to deliver all cash on hand. The cashier knocked down the would-be robber and held him until the arrival of police. He gave his name as George Shelton, 32, of Colorado Springs, Colo.

The officers say he answers the description sent out by Chicago police.

URGES ROOSEVELT TO SUPPORT HUGHES

Chicago, June 13—John C. Shaffer, owner of seven daily newspapers and one of the Progressive party leaders in the middle west, today sent a telegram to Colonel Roosevelt urging him to support Charles E. Hughes for president.

He also asked him to decline the presidential nomination of the Progressive party.

Indeed—an almost unpremeditated outpouring of thousands of sober citizens to manifest their interest in the safety of the country and the sacredness of the flag which is its emblem.

"I need not remind you how much sentiment has been poured out in honor of the flag of the United States. Sometimes we have been charged with being a very sentimental people, fond of expressing in general rhetorical phrases principles not sufficiently defined in action, and I dare say there have been times of happy and careless ease in this country when all that it has been necessary to do for the honor of the flag was to put our sentiments into poetic expressions, into the words that for the time being satisfied our hearts. But this is not a day of sentiment. Sentiment is a powerless power, but it does not propel in the way that is serviceable to the nation, unless it have a definite purpose before it. This is not merely a day of sentiment. It is a day of purposes.

"Apparently this nation is again and again to be tested, and always tested in the same way. The last supreme test this nation went thru was the test of the civil war. You know how deep that cut. You know what exigent issues of life were at issue in that struggle. You know how two great sections of this Union seemed to be moving in opposite directions and for long time it was questionable whether that flag represented any one united purpose in America. And you know how deep that struggle cut into the sentiments of this people and how there came a whole generation following that great struggle when men's hearts were bitter and sore, and memories hurt as well as exalted, and how it seemed as if a rift had come in the hearts of the people of America.

"And you know how that ended. While it seemed a time of terror, it has turned out a proof of the validity of our hope. Where are now the division of sentiment which cut us asunder at the time of the civil war?

New Sort of Division Springs Up
"And yet again the test is applied, my fellow countrymen, in a new sort of division of feeling has sprung up amongst us. You know that we are derived in our citizenship from every nation in the world. It is not singular that sentiment should be disturbed by what is going on, on the other side of the water, but while sentiment may be disturbed, loyalty ought not to be.

"I want to be scrupulously just, my fellow citizens in assessing the circumstances of this day and I am sure that you wish me to deal out with an even hand the praise and the blame for this day of test. I believe that the vast majority of those men whose lineage is directly derived from the nations now at war are just as loyal to the flag of the United States as any native citizen of this beloved land, but there are some men of that extraction who are not and they, not only in past months, but at the present time, are doing their best to undermine the influence of the government of the United States in the interest of matters which are foreign to us, and which are not derived from the questions of our own politics.

"There is disloyalty active in the United States and it must be absolutely crushed. It proceeds from a minority, a very small minority, but a very active and subtle minority. It works underground, but it also shows its ugly head where we can see it; and there are those at this moment who are trying to levy a species of political blackmail, saying, 'Do what we wish in the interest of foreign sentiment or we wreck our vengeance at the polls.' That is the sort of thing against which the American nation will turn with a might and triumph of sentiment which will teach these gentlemen once for all that loyalty to this flag is the first test of tolerance in the United States.

"That is the lesson I have come to remind you of on this day—no mere sentiment. It runs into your daily life and conversation. Are you going yourselves, individually and collectively, to see to it that no man is tolerated who does not do honor to that flag? It is not a matter of force. It is not a matter, that is to say, of physical force. It is a matter of greater force than that which is physical. It is a matter of spiritual force. It is to be achieved as we think, as we purpose, as we believe and when the world finally learns that America is indivisible, then the world will learn how truly and profoundly great and powerful America is."

NO DEVELOPMENTS IN MEXICAN SITUATION

Washington, June 14—With all the government departments closed in observance of Flag Day, there were no developments here today in the grave Mexican situation. Few telegrams reached the war and state departments, but officials said they contained nothing of importance. A message to the navy department from the West Coast said a large number of Carranza troops were being transferred by water from Cuaymas to Mazatlan. The reasons for the movement was not reported.

CANCEL THIRD TRAINING CAMP

Chicago, June 13—Because the government cannot spare officers to take charge of the third training camp scheduled to be held at Fort Benjamin Harrison from September 8 to October 5, the camp has been cancelled. This announcement was made today at the headquarters of the Central Department of the army, Maj. Gen. Thomas H. Barry, commanding. The two other camps will be held as scheduled, it was said.

BOTH SIDES DECLARE RAILROAD WAGE CONFERENCE HAS FAILED

NEW YORK, June 13—Although the conference between representatives of the railroads of the country technically is still in session, spokesmen for both sides declared tonight that the negotiations, intended to avert a general strike, have failed. The conference, they state, will in all probability break up tomorrow when the railroads finish the explanation of their "contingent" or counter proposition to meet the demands of the men.

The failure of the conference does not mean that a general strike of the 350,000 railroad men affected will immediately follow, both the railroad men and managers say. The result of the conference must first be reported to the men. A strike vote will follow and if the strike is authorized, the workers will then renew their demands. Only in the event of another failure to agree, either thru compromise or arbitration, would the strike order become effective.

Hair Discovery Restores Color

Remarkable Scientific Preparation
Restores Vitality of Color-Glands and Hair Roots.

The way to restore gray, faded or bleached hair to its original color, without dye or stain, has never before been actually solved. Today it is an accomplished fact. The discovery has been made that hair consists of five principal substances, and that when any one or more of these is missing the hair-

Remarkable Results of Vola-Vita in Bringing Back Original Hair Color Without Tinting or Dyeing the Hair. roots and color-glands lose their vitality, the hair falls out, turns gray, dandruff and baldness follow. The new hair discovery, VOLA-VITA, restores these missing substances in a remarkable way. The results are quickly seen—the hair always stops falling, hair grows on heads bald for many years, bald spots fill out, hair grows luxuriantly, dandruff disappears completely. And another remarkable thing occurs—whether your hair was originally red, black or brown, it will restore that exact shade to your hair, no matter how gray, faded or bleached it may now be, something never before accomplished. VOLA-VITA is not a dye or stain. It is a hair-revitalizer, pure and simple.

A modern cause of hair troubles is alcohol in hair tonics. Alcohol means hair murder. It shrinks hair, kills it gradually, surely. VOLA-VITA contains no alcohol. VOLA-VITA will solve your hair and scalp troubles surely, completely, quickly. Satisfaction guaranteed.

VOLA-VITA is sold at all drug-stores, $1.00 a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by Vola-Vita Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE GRADUATES LARGEST CLASS IN HISTORY

DIPLOMAS GRANTED WEDNESDAY TO TWENTY SEVEN

President Rammelkamp Gives Figures Showing Splendid Growth of Institution—$300,000 New Endowment Fund Will Be Sought—A Look Into the Future.

The 87th annual commencement of Illinois college passed off yesterday in a very successful manner in the presence of a large body of students and a good number of visitors. The largest class in the history of the college was graduated and the president reported a surplus in the treasury. The alumni met, elected officers and had the usual dinner and addresses and the day was ended.

The whole spirit of the day was one of triumph. Great things have been accomplished, the college has gone thru several years without a deficit and now comes the imperative need of greater endowment. $300,000 is the goal with a new library building, new woman's building, new science hall and museum, new or improved gymnasium building and other additions and improvements which place the college right in the front rank of educational institutions.

The following were the graduates.

Bachelor of Arts

Miriam Cynthia Akers,
Edward James Alexander,
Ernest Fletcher Alford,
Carl Ellsworth Black, Jr.,
Ruth Elizabeth Brown,
Edward McDonald Bullard,

Commencement Hymn

Air "Abschied"
O, little college on the hill,
For life's great fight we feel the thrill,
In leaving thee grief touches joy,
Farewell, farewell, old Illinois.

The hours we've spent within each hall,
In future years we'll oft recall,
Till like renown of ancient Troy,
We'll sing thy praise, old Illinois.

Oh, Alma Mater, mother dear,
Within our hearts thou hast no peer,
Thine image time shall ne'er destroy,
Farewell, farewell, old Illinois.

—Marion Taylor, '13.

Shortly after ten the procession formed and marched to the place designated in the following order. Graduating class.

Class of '96.
Alumni of the college.
The Board of Trustees.
The Faculty.

The President and Guests of Honor.

After music the invocation was pronounced by Rev. E. B. Landis, pastor of Westminster church, and then followed a well prepared oration on "World Peace" by Clifford H. Dixon. He said the world had been crying peace when there was no peace nor would there be any world peace till the nations would agree to an international court with power vested in it in some manner to enforce its decrees. The world looks to the United States to lead in this great movement and this is the psychological moment to accomplish it.

Miss Ruth E. Brown delivered a good oration on "The Power of Imagination." "Imagination rules the world and so moved he went on to achieve his mighty victories. It inspires the philosopher, the world conquerors and all who accomplish great things.

The commencement address was delivered by Prof. John A. Scott, Ph. D. of Northwestern University on "Democracy and Democratic Education." The effort was a masterly affair. Only a short outline is given. The burden of the address was the stand taken by the speaker that to be permanent a nation must have educated, intelligent, upright people. For many years Persia ruled a great part of the world. As long as the mighty genius of Cyrus and Darius was at the head of affairs the nation was irresistible but when Cyrus the younger came to the throne without the benefit of rigid discipline and training the kingdom fell a prey to other powers for it lacked men able to perform the duties of citizenship. The people of old might have had the good things of life if they had known how to use the powers and substances of nature. Noah could have had the ark lighted with electricity had he known how to construct a dynamo and wire the craft; Job might have had his tortures increased by a ride in a Ford car and the Prodigal Son might have had a remittance from home had there been modern facilities for banking and transportation.

Cyrus was the first one to establish religious liberty. He won the Jews by sending them back to Jerusalem and aiding them in rebuilding their temple; he won Lydia by turning the channel of trade her way and making men rich; he made the coin of the realm the pure metal; he took a judge who had accepted a bribe, skinned him and used the hide to cover the cushion of the judicial chair; he sought the best of physicians; when bridges blew down he beheaded the engineers who had constructed them; but his son lacked for nothing and grew up weak. It is only thru hard struggles that such men as Washington, Lincoln and Grant are developed. We cannot deprive others of their rights and succeed. Athens was great when full liberty and education and rights were granted to all. We most fear those whom we have wronged. When Russia struck Germany at once attacked France for she remembered the fearful indemnity and the large territory wrung from that nation but what a costly prize it has proved to be. Austria is reaping the harvest of wrong toward Serbia and England toward Ireland and Wales. Tyrants do not seek the common people. Had it not been for the Galilean fishermen and the tent maker of Tarsus the world might not have known its Messiah.

Democracy means the rule of the people; they must be wise, prudent, educated and patriotic and then the nation may be great.

In presenting Judge Campbell of Bowling Green, Mo., for honors Dean Hayden introduced the gentleman as a gallant soldier, an eminent lawyer, a philanthropist, an upright judge, a legislator, a builder of great enterprises and a worthy son of Illinois college.

The Alumni Association met in Sturtevant hall and heard the report of A. D. Fairbanks, secretary-treasurer. He reported the progress of the funds and the collections toward various purposes. The officers were re-elected:

President—A. T. Capps.
Secretary-treasurer—A. D. Fairbank.
W. G. Goebel and R. I. Donlap were added to the alumni list.

The Dinner.

All then adjourned to the gymnasium where a fine menu was served by the ladies of the Christian church.

President Capps called the gathering to order after all had eaten and tendered the hand of welcome to the newly graduated class of 1916 and Edward Alexander responded in a happy vein.

Rev. Thos. W. Smith of East Orange, New Jersey, was then introduced and acted as toastmaster and performed the duties of the position in a highly satisfactory manner.

H. J. Dunbaugh was called on to present the trophy, a silver cup, the class with the largest per cent of attendance present. The class of '93 had three out of ten; '96 had five out of 21 and '14 had four out of 13 and took the cup. A rising vote of thanks was tendered Hon. Andrew Russell for his great liberality toward the college in this and all other matters.

Other speakers were Dr. Alfred N. Gilbert, '86, Para; James Miller, '91 Decatur; A. B. Fairbank, '96, Sioux City, South Dakota; Clayton J. Barber, Springfield.

Dr. Edward Capps, '87, Princeton, New Jersey, spoke regarding the alumni fund. The first year there were 170 members, now 380. The first year $1,640 was received, last year $2,775 and this year $5,000 may be expected. Some 25 percent of the student body have contributed while of Harvard only 16 percent have paid anything. The memorial to the ten Phi Alphas had been completed.

Prof. John A. Scott spoke in a manner highly complimentary to Jacksonville and the college and emphasized the pleasure he felt at being present. Dr. Rammelkamp told feelingly of the joy he experienced over the condition of things in the college and expressed the hope that the great expectations would be fully realized in the future.

The exercises were interspersed with class yells, songs by the choir and good natured hilarity generally. A fervent prayer by the toastmaster ended the exercises.

Notes.

Trustee John F. Downing is now one of the foremost and wealthiest bankers in Kansas City. The stock of his bank is worth 400 per cent.

A. B. Fairbank said he was always impressed on returning to Jacksonville by the infantile appearance of the graduating class, the size of the trees on the campus, the beauty of the ladies and Ensley Moore's memory.

Judge Campbell said while he was a student not a tree was to be seen between the college and the Insane Hospital and he could hardly realize that it was the same place.

C. S. Rannels is doing well in the insurance business and has an important office in a strong company.

Harry F. Scott rushed down from Chicago just to attend the reunion of his class of '96. He called on Mrs. James I. Barrows and a few other friends. He is a valued instructor in the high school department of Chicago University.

The Hitt Brothers supplied very good music during the forenoon program.

Many former students declared it the best commencement season they had ever enjoyed.

Hon. W. H. Govett of Quincy is among the leading capitalists of the Gem City and a prominent attorney.

PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT

Illinois College is closing another successful year. Indeed, we feel profoundly grateful to our friends and reverently thankful to a kind Providence for the continued prosperity of the college. It seems as if our dreams are really coming true.

I invite your attention to a report of the significant events of the year.

Trustees

As we assemble at our annual commencement we sadly miss the presence of our former colleague and treasurer, the late Robert M. Hockenhuil. Gentleman, scholar, accomplished musician, able business man, Mr. Hockenhuil touched life at many points and was a valuable member of our Board of Trustees. A resolution in his memory has already been spread upon our records. We likewise regret to lose the services of the Reverend Leonidas H. Davis, and the Reverend Howard D. French, who have resigned from the Board. To the new members elected last December, Mr. William T. Wilson and the new Treasurer, William G. Goebel, we extend a cordial welcome. We appreciate the spirit in which they have already begun to cooperate with us in promoting the interests of Illinois college. At this morning's session Mr. Thomas L. Fansler was also elected to membership. He is a former student of Illinois College who was given the honorary degree of Master of Arts at the commencement of 1915. Mr. Fansler is at present the general agent of the Northwestern Insurance Company in Philadelphia. Mr. Frederick C. Tanner, I am pleased to state, has been re-elected as one of our Alumni Trustees.

College Faculty and Work of Instruction

The work of instruction has proceeded during the year with the usual success. After all, it is the quiet, effective work done in the classroom and the laboratory, the contributions which members of the faculty make towards the sum of human knowledge, the upbuilding of sound characters that constitute the fundamentally important things. These activities, perhaps for the very reason that they are the ordinary activities, often do not attract the public attention drawn to other phases of college life. Those forms of college life that have been so suggestively described as the "side shows," frequently excite more public attention than do these "attractions of the main tent."

So far as known at present, no changes will occur in the professorships on our faculty, altho a few changes will be made in the instructorships. We regret to lose the services of Miss Eleanor Capps, instructor in German and English, and Miss Helen W. Crawley, instructor in Latin and French. Both have resigned in order to take post graduate studies. The resignation of Principal Clayton H. Givan is mentioned elsewhere in this report.

Miss Alice Malone, a graduate of Michigan University, from which institution she also holds a master's degree, has been appointed to succeed Miss Capps. In addition to her work at Michigan, Miss Malone has traveled and studied abroad, has had several years' experience and is now still further pursuing graduate studies at the University of Michigan.

Miss Dorothy L. Scott has been appointed instructor in Latin and French. Miss Scott is a graduate of Northwestern University and has supplemented her studies at that institution by study and travel abroad.

The facilities for instruction have been considerably improved by the addition of new equipment during the year. I refer in particular to the stereopticon donated by several trustees and friends, the improvements in the biological and chemical laboratories, and the accessions to the library.

The faculty has revised the entrance requirements. I refer to the College catalog for the detailed statement of these new requirements. The number of entrance conditions allowed has been reduced from two to one and I believe the general effect of the new legislation will be to raise our entrance requirements. By allowing a greater latitude in the choice of the elective units for entrance, however, the work of the college will be more harmoniously co-ordinated with that of the public high schools. A new classification of the college students has also been made. This classification is more in accordance with that prevailing in other first class institutions and will greatly reduce the number of "special students" in the institution.

That the standards of Illinois college are high is again confirmed by the recognition recently extended to the college. The University of Illinois, in order to determine what standing should be given to the graduates of the colleges of our state in its graduate school recently made a somewhat careful investigation of the work done in the colleges of Illinois. It is gratifying to note that Illinois college was given full recognition. The State Examining Board of Illinois has also, in a recently published report, included Illinois college in its list of fully recognized higher institutions of learning. This latter recognition is of considerable practical importance to our graduates since it will give them an opportunity to teach in the public schools of Illinois without taking the teachers' examinations. It need hardly be added that the college continues on the recognized list of the North Central Association.

The faculty has given much attention during the year to the system of grading. A strong sentiment existed in favor of adopting the so called Missouri System of grading. This system represents, it may be said, an attempt at greater fairness in grading students, an attempt to counteract the tendency of some instructors to be either too severe or too liberal in their marking. After full discussion it did not seem wise to a majority of the faculty to adopt a new system but a policy has been inaugurated which will probably

Every Woman
Should Use
Every Week Shampoo

To Preserve Her Hair

If women would use an Anti-Septic Oil Shampoo instead of the soaps and shampoos now so commonly used, they would improve rather than injure the delicate hair plants.

The hair plant is an oil plant and to wash it with soaps or shampoos containing free alkali works great injury. It not only cuts the natural oil of the hair but it destroys the fatty roots of the hair plant, causing the hair to come out.

EVERY WEEK ANTI-SEPTIC OIL SHAMPOO cleanses and purifies the scalp, dissolves and removes dandruff, opens the clogged hair cells and leaves the scalp soft and healthy.

It leaves the hair soft, lustrous, fluffy and easy to handle.

Excellent for men and children also. A large bottle holding 64 teaspoonfuls 50c at

The College Library.

The College Library has again made substantial progress. The Librarian reports that 811 volumes have been added to the Library during the year. The total expenditure for books and periodicals amounts to nearly nine hundred dollars. It will be remembered that through the generosity of Mr. Russell, our Chairman, and by appropriation from the Board, a President's Decennial Fund of $400 was set aside for the purchase of books in the field of history and political science. The volumes purchased with this fund, numbering about 240, have greatly improved the facilities for work in the Department of History and Political Science. When the accessions made in recent years in the other departments such as the ancient classics, modern languages and English are recalled, it is evident that our Library is now making at least a start in the right direction.

I am especially pleased to announce at this time that the Harold W. Johnston Library Fund of $2000 has been completed. You will probably recall that the former students and friends of Professor Johnston organized a movement a few years ago to establish at Illinois College and Indiana University suitable memorials for this distinguished scholar and teacher. A memorial tablet was unveiled at Indiana University two days ago, and recently by the gift of $250 from Mr. James Loe of Munich, Germany, and gifts from other friends, the Memorial Fund has also been completed. This permanent book fund will not only memorialize a distinguished alumnus and former member of our faculty, but it will help to promote at Illinois College the cause of classical learning to which Professor Johnston was so ardently devoted. I am pleased to report that $600 has recently been subscribed towards a library fund of $2000 in memory of Professor and Mrs. Harvey W. Milligan. This amount added to gifts previously reported makes a total of $1400 already subscribed to the Milligan Fund.

As the Library grows, the need of a new building is becoming constantly more pressing. In fact, we shall soon reach the point where the embarrassment will be acute. There will not be a sufficient seating space in the library for the increasing number of students even if they all touch elbows. The time has come when the College must have for its growing library more than two small, inadequately equipped rooms in a building that is used for several other purposes. I only hope that some kind friend will soon see this great need and give the necessary funds. What a fine opportunity to establish a great memorial to some worthy person! This new library building will undoubtedly prove one of the most important features of our campus both from an architectural and educational standpoint.

Conservatory of Music.

I am glad to state that there will be no changes on the Conservatory Faculty next year except the addition of an assistant in the Violin Department. Miss Minnie Hoffman, who received her diploma at this commencement, is the person who has been appointed to the new position. It will be noted elsewhere in this report that 197 students were registered in the Conservatory this year, representing an increase of 21 over the registration of last year. Furthermore the Conservatory has graduated this year the largest class in its history, eleven diplomas and eight teachers' certificates having been granted. Director Kritch and his colleagues may well take pride in the work of the Conservatory.

Whipple Academy.

Mr. Clinton H. Givan, after one year's service, has resigned the principalship of Whipple Academy in order to continue his post-graduate studies. He will be succeeded by Mr. Levi C. Robinson, recently teacher of English in the High School at Colfax, Washington. Mr. Robinson, after two years of study at Whitman College, went to Harvard University, where he received both the A. B. and A. M. degrees. His post-graduate work for the master's degree was largely in the field of education. He had been re-elected at Colfax when he accepted the position at Illinois College. Seven students were graduated from the Preparatory Department this year.

Academy Hall.

We deeply regret to lose the efficient services of Miss Eunice T. Gray, who has decided to return to her home in California. The new head of Academy Hall will be Miss Margaret Hugh, a graduate of James Millikin University, who has had extensive experience and large responsibilities in the management of her own home and comes to her position with the highest recommendations.

Students.

The present year has witnessed another substantial increase in attendance. The total attendance, eliminating all duplicate registrations, is 352, as compared with 358 in the previous year. In the College Department it is 73, as compared with 144 in 1914-15. There is an increase of 22 in the registration in the Conservatory, while Whipple Academy shows a slight decrease of 3. The steady increase in the College attendance during the past four years is one of the most encouraging elements in the recent history of the institution. It began with the entrance of the present graduating class. Entering in 1912 as the largest freshman class in the history of the College to that date, the class of 1916 is now leaving as our graduating class. I am glad to add that the class is distinguished not only for its size, but also for fine scholarship, warm loyalty and sterling worth. The faculty expects much from the twenty-seven men and women who today will take their place among the graduates of "Old Illinois."

Great success and enthusiasm have characterized the student activities of the year. The phenomenal success of our football team, the good showing made by our track team, the numerous meets, both intercollegiate and interscholastic, held on our campus, have made the season an unusually busy one in athletics—I am inclined to believe, a little too busy. College spirit is not only growing, but it is becoming, I am glad to say, constantly more wholesome. We all cheerfully and gratefully acknowledge the helpful leadership of Coach W. T. Harmon in promoting "clean sport" at Illinois College. Some may think that his greatest contribution to our College life is found in the success of his teams; I believe it is found in the spirit of fair play which he instills into his men; and I shall feel just as proud of him when his teams lose, as I have felt during these years when so many championships have been won by "Old Illinois." As has been previously announced, the cooperation of local friends and alumni has made possible the renewal of a contract with Mr. Harmon for next year and probably also for the succeeding year.

The College celebrated the Shakespearean Tercentenary by a very successful out-of-door performance of "The Tempest." It was the year for the usual Elizabethan May Day, but the May Day Committee, the Dramatic Club and the Conservatory all combined this year in order to produce a play worthy of the occasion. It was one of the most successful and, without doubt, the most beautiful out-of-door performances ever presented on our campus. I cannot speak in too high praise of Professor Ames who trained the cast and under whose general direction the play was given.

It may be of interest to know that by special invitation, "The Tempest" and two Greek Plays, "The Electra" and "The Antigone" will be reproduced by our students at Chautauqua, New York this summer. Those presentation will be given under the direction of Professor Tanner of our Classical Department.

The girls of the College are still actively interested in the movement for a woman's building. I understand that over $1000 has been subscribed towards this enterprise. Especially worthy of mention is the recent subscription of $250 from the Alumnae of the Jacksonville Female Academy, the Athenaeum and Conservatory. We all admire the persistence shown by our girls and their friends in promoting this enterprise. There is no question that a need for a girls' society hall and social center exists and there is no question that such a spirit as our girls are showing will eventually achieve success. May the success, when it comes, be large. May it be a new commodious women's building on the campus.

A new girls' literary society, Sigma Phi Epsilon, organized during the year, is another example of the activities of our girls.

I cannot conclude my report on the student activities of the year without mentioning the noteworthy religious revival that prevailed on our campus last December. Many students were greatly influenced by this movement. It was a sane, forceful presentation of the claims of the Christian religion upon the lives of college students. The reorganization of the College Y. M. C. A. and the present plans to send a large delegation to the Geneva Conference are some of the more important and permanent results of the movement.

The Alumni.

The alumni of the College continue to take warm interest in the welfare of their alma mater. The best demonstration of that interest is found in the steady growth of the Alumni Fund. Last year the total subscription for current expenditures and endowment amounted to $2775.90. This year the total subscriptions, I am informed, will amount to nearly $4800, a large proportion of which is for the Alumni Fund Endowment. Last year $625 was appropriated toward the current expenses of the College and $193 towards various special endowments (Capps Memorial Fund and Tanner Memorial Fund). "In Memoriam Memberships" in the Alumni Fund Association were established last year for the following: William Jayne, '47; Edward Allan Tanner, '57; Stephen R. Capps, '57; William H. Gibbs, '57; James A. Shaw, '57; Elsha B. Hamilton, '60; Charles A. Barnes, '76; and Robert C. Kennedy, '99. Several additional memberships are to be established this year and will be announced at the Alumni Luncheon on commencement day. The following figures of annual cash receipts show the steady growth of the Alumni Fund:

1911-1912	$1488.15
1912-13	1824.57
1913-14	2236.15
1914-15	2607.37
1915-16 (estimated)	4800.00

We can never be too grateful to the directors and members of the Alumni Fund Association for their efforts on behalf of this fund. When we realize that some 29 per cent of our living graduates and former students are subscribers to this fund, as compared with 16 per cent who are subscribing to the Yale fund, we appreciate the good work which Professor Capps and his colleagues are doing in this cause.

The year has witnessed the death of several of our alumni and former students. Reference has been made already to the death of Mr. Robert M. Hockenbush, '79. The death of Dr. William Jayne, '47 of Springfield, Illinois removes from our alumni body one of its most honored members. A student in the days of President Beecher, a founder of Phi Alpha, friend of Abraham Lincoln, distinguished public official, loyal alumnus, Dr. Jayne will ever be cherished in the history of Illinois College. George L. Merrill, '83, of Jacksonville, who died last winter was not only a loyal and worthy alumnus but had given efficient service on both the Faculty and Board of Trustees. Press dispatches have very recently also brought the news of the death of James H. Blodgett, '53, of Washington, D. C. Nor would I omit special mention of the death of Dr. Greene Vardeman Black, one of our most distinguished and most loyal honorary alumni. Among the other deaths of the year are the following:

Alumni: W. M. Potts, '57; David King, '65; Dr. Elbert Wing, '75; W. Barr Brown, '81; W. G. Wall, '86. Former students: S. A. Symphon, ex '60; J. N. Watts, ex '62; Dr. C. W. Cannon, ex '64; W. H. M. Larimore, ex '64; J. W. Crabtree, ex '67; E. W. Brown, ex '75; C. E. Dugan, ex '87; J. A. Owen, ex '62; J. R. Askew, ex '69.

The Eli B. Williams and Harriet B. Williams Memorial Fund.

The outstanding event of the year is undoubtedly the recent benefaction of Mr. Hobart W. Williams. It is the largest single gift ever made to Illinois college during all the eighty-seven years of its history. The gift is, of course, only one of the many donations which this modest, pioneer citizen of Chicago has made. His gifts for educational and other philanthropic objects, amounting to nearly five million dollars, will be remembered as one of the great benefactions of our time.

Among the trusts established by Mr. Williams is the Eli B. Williams and Harriet B. Williams Memorial Fund. This fund founded by Mr. Williams in memory of his father and mother amounts to $2,115,000. Five colleges of our state, including Illinois College and five philanthropic institutions of the city of Chicago have been named as beneficiaries. The fund is to be used by the colleges in order to assist poor and deserving students, both boys and girls to obtain an education. Each of the ten institutions named in the trust is to receive 8 percent of the income during the life time of Mr. Williams, and 10 percent after his death. The securities, consisting of United States bonds and other high class investments have been placed in custody of the Merchants' Loan and Trust Company of Chicago, which will administer the fund and pay over the annuities to the various institutions. It is probable that Illinois College will receive immediately from five to six thousands dollars a year, and eventually from seven to eight thousand annually from this fund. It is not easy for us to realize what a great service our college will now be able to render to the deserving young people of our state and country.

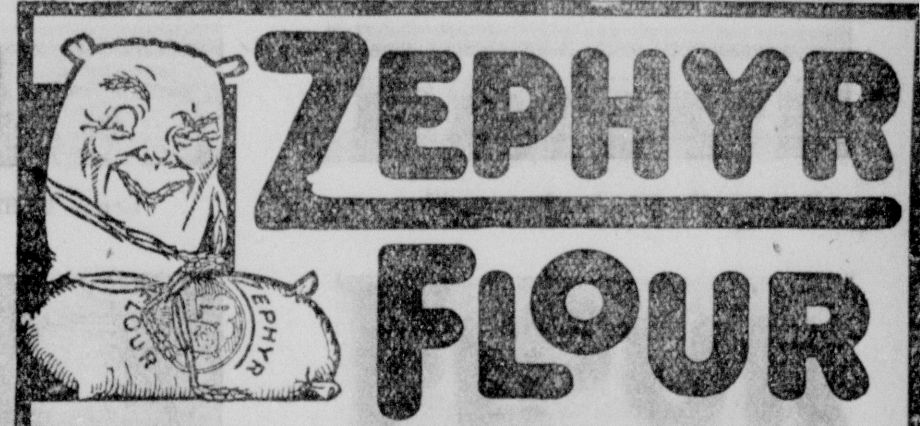

We feel deeply grateful to Mr. Williams for honoring Illinois College by including it among the institutions which will co-operate with him in administering this sacred trust. We need not assure him that every effort will be made to achieve the noble purpose which he has in mind. The gift not only opens to us a great opportunity, but it places upon the Trustees and Faculty a heavy responsibility. Properly and wisely to distribute this aid to the deserving young people of the land will require careful planning. The Trustees have appointed a committee, consisting of both Trustees and Faculty members to formulate the rules and regulations for the distribution of the fund. I am glad also to state that the five colleges concerned are planning to hold an early conference

Here's A 'Tip' On Rheumatism Follow It

AN ACCURATE DESCRIPTION

When your arm or your leg feels "all knotted" with rheumatism, when you feel as though your muscles were "tied up with a rope," you are really describing your pains accurately. Rheumatism is a condition of the body when acids and other deposits of impurities are actually "lying up" the strands of muscles in your body, or strangling the nerves and thus producing the awful shooting pains of sciatica, lumbago, etc. Medical authorities agree that these acid deposits are carried and deposited by the blood in the various parts of the body. It stands to reason, therefore, that local applications such as rubbing with so-called remedies can't do any permanent good. At best they can relieve the pain a little and only for a little while. The only way to effect a real cure is to attack the real cause—the blood. It is cleansed from the troublesome deposits by S. S. S., the reliable blood purifier that is now easing the pains and healing the ill of the third generation. S. S. S. "goes after" the impurities in the blood as relentlessly, as eagerly and as thoroughly as a ferret goes after rats; pursuing the poison into every vein and artery, into every nook and corner of the body, and chasing the troublesome substances out of the system. The blood thus cleansed, carries off the acid and other injurious deposits and "filters" them out of the body through the kidneys. S. S. S. is not a drug. It is a purely vegetable blood purifier. You can get S. S. S. at every drug store. But if in addition you should like to have the advice of the doctors in charge of our laboratory, do not hesitate to write us. You will receive free, conscientious and confidential advice. This is in line with our policy to make every effort to insure the best results from S. S. S. to every sufferer. Get a bottle at your druggist's today. If you wish special advice, write to Medical Department, Room 45, Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Georgia.

Reliable Medicine for Distressing Bronchial Coughs

Hoarseness, Tickling Throat, Severe Coughing, All Go
When Foley's Honey
and Tar Is Used.

Bronchitis too often leaves a severe racking cough that weakens the system and paves the way for such grave diseases as pleurisy and pneumonia. Sometimes there is a nervous hacking, worse on arising and at nightfall, that is especially wearing and should by all means be stopped promptly. Foley's Honey and Tar is exactly suited to these conditions. It directly affects the mucous lining of the throat, clearing it at once of hoarseness, removing the tickling phlegm and stopping the severe racking cough. Coughs usually grow worse at nightfall and prevent the quiet rest so necessary to one weakened by a cold.

Chas. T. Miller, Ed. Cancellation, Ind.

Enquirer, writes: "For three years I was troubled with bronchial affections was hoarse and sometimes could hardly speak louder than a whisper. Had to entirely give up singing, and coughed constantly from sore throat day and night. I took FOLEY'S Honey and Tar and got relief. This spring the trouble arose again. I bought a bottle, took five doses, and have the remainder in the bottle on my desk now, to take if another attack develops. It is great for bronchial colds and coughs.

In order that a united effort may be made to accomplish the best results.

Illinois College has always been known as an institution that welcomes the kind of students whom Mr. Williams is seeking to aid. Among our most distinguished alumni are many who earned their way through college. We still have a large proportion of that kind of young people in our student body. Thank God, we shall now be able to perform a still greater service for them.

Miscellaneous.

Among the other gifts of the year may also be mentioned the following: An electric blower for the chapel organ, sweaters for the football team, and a set of Luther Burbank's works and other volumes, all presented by Chairman Runkle; a scholarship presented by H. M. Wilson and $125 from two anonymous friends. Mention was made in a previous report of the donation of the stereopticon equipment by various friends. Mr. S. W. Nichols has generously promised to deposit in the College his large and valuable collection of slides. Many other friends have helped here and there as they have recognized the various needs. Time and effort generously given by numerous friends have often been more valuable than cash donations.

The campus Improvement Committee has continued its good work under the direction of Mrs. T. J. Pittner. About one thousand shrubs were planted during the spring.

Finances.

Once more and for the fifth successive time I am glad to announce that the College has closed the year with a balance in the income and expense account. The balance for the year is about $1500. Reference to the report of the Finance Committee which is attached to this report will give full information regarding the financial condition of the College and the financial operations of the year. The balances of the last five years are, however, by no means an indication that the institution has sufficient funds to accomplish its great work. Indeed, it is only by careful management and by rigid economy, by deferring many needed improvements and by asking our faculty to serve for very low salaries, that the Trustees have been able to achieve these financial results.

The Future of Illinois College.

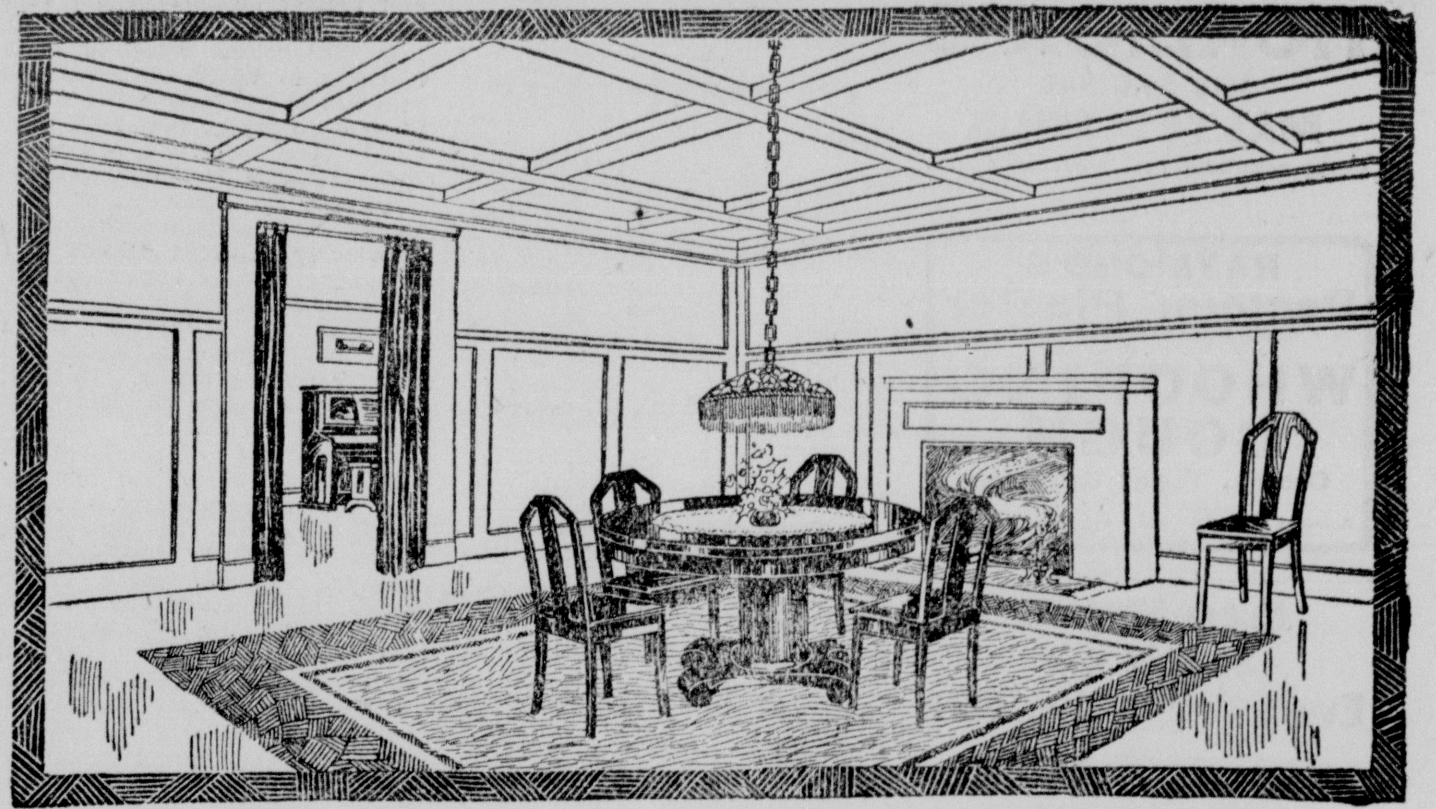

The time has come when another step forward must be taken. In a comparatively few years, Illinois College will celebrate the hundredth anniversary of its founding. I ask you to catch a vision, if possible, of the Illinois College of 1929. Do you realize that if the present increase in the number of students continues, we shall have even before that time a body of five hundred college students, in addition to those who may be enrolled in the Conservatory and the other special departments. Do you realize what we must do in order to take care of these students? I have already mentioned the pressing need of a new library building, several other buildings and improvements will be necessary on the campus of 1929. I see a new quadrangle. One the north corner facing College Avenue are a new library and museum and a new commons; on the south corners are the present dormitory and a new science hall. South and east of Old Beecher, I see a group of student society buildings, including especially the proposed Woman's building. I see the old Club House transformed into an attractive home for the Dean, and a gymnasium greatly improved. Furthermore, the College will have by that time an endowment of at least a million dollars. Do you think this an empty dream? If you do, you have little faith in the future of Illinois College. The students will be here asking for the instruction and training, and I firmly believe that if trustees, faculty, alumni and friends will catch the vision and pray, and help, what seems a dream now will be a reality in 1929.

If that vision is to be realized, however, we must begin at once to help. I am glad to report that the movement has already started in a most encouraging manner. In the first place, the trustees have unanimously and with much enthusiasm resolved to raise $300,000. One alumnus has asked us for the privilege of subscribing the first thousand dollars, and a friend, Mrs. Elizabeth Voorhees of New Jersey, has just sent us a check for five thousand dollars, to show her faith in this vision. A few hours ago another friend sent us a check for $1,000. Several other subscriptions have also been made, and I am very happy to announce that $25,000 has already been subscribed to a new fund. As we contemplate, in conclusion, the progress of the year just closing, we realize that this is indeed a happy commencement. The largest student body and the largest graduating class in our history, increasing efficiency in our work, a new spirit of enthusiasm among our students and total gifts and subscriptions amounting to at least $175,000, make this a notable year in the history of Illinois College. Just what form our effort for additional funds will take in the near future, circumstances will have to determine. I hope the $75,000 for a new library will be among the earliest gifts, and with that must also come a further substantial increase in our endowment. A great future is ours if only some friends with the vision of Hobart W. Williams will help us to meet the needs and opportunity.

MODERN NOT "DISC" UNITED STATES CREAM SEPARATOR

With construction totally different from any of the many "disc" type makes—and as much better as newer and different.

Back of these U. S. improvements are 43 years experience in manufacturing dairy goods and cream separators.

Has the modern labor saving and sanitary improvements you have always needed most, but which no other cream separator has ever been able to supply.

No other Companies' experts have ever studied so closely the defects of all separators, right in farm dairies. The wonderful success of U. S. improvements are the result.

WHAT THE MODERN & "NEEDED MOST" FEATURES ARE

MODERN—Because of Nickel-Silver.

Nickel-Silver in the U. S. skimming device makes for easy cleaning, and does away with rust, thereby meeting the requirements of sanitary laws. Steel discs rust badly, contaminate milk and cream, and are hard to keep clean.

MODERN—Because Mechanically Washed, Sterilized and Dried.

The U. S. is the only separator adapted to mechanical washing. This process also sterilizes and dries the bowl. A mechanical washer free with every Separator.

MODERN—Because Uses Bowl Chamber Liner.

The U. S. Separator is first to adopt this liner. It makes the separator much easier to clean, and supplies the only way to keep it strictly sanitary. Boards of Health endorse it.

MODERN—Because of Vertical Blade System.

The "vertical blade" and the "disc" skimming devices are the two systems mostly used in separators. The vertical blade system, as used in the U. S. wholly overcomes defects found in disc bowls. It is the modern system, and fully protected by patents. Separators of disc type, originated long ago, with no recent important improvements.

MODERN—Because no Central Core in Bowl.

The U. S. bowl has an open center, without cumbersome central core, split wing, or discs, on, or between which cream lodges. U. S. bowls flush perfectly.

MODERN—Because the U. S. is Self-Draining.

never any sloppy mess over person or floor when taking the bowl apart.

The U. S. is the EASIEST RUNNING separator because of its small diameter bowl, the superior construction of its gears and shafts, and an ideally effective oiling system. Demonstration gladly given right at your home. No obligation.

Escape TOOTH Troubles

—by keeping your teeth REALLY CLEAN.
"But," you say, "I brush my teeth regularly, yet they decay."
Yes, you brush them, but do you REALLY CLEAN them?
Tonight, after brushing your teeth, examine them closely. You will likely find an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding in the crevices.

Decay, as well as the dangerous gum disease called Pyorrhea, usually develops only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present.
SENRECO, the formula of a dental specialist, keeps the teeth REALLY CLEAN. It embodies specially prepared soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Moreover, it is particularly destructive to the germ of Pyorrhea.

Go to your dealer today and get a tube of Senreco—keep your teeth REALLY CLEAN and protect yourself against Pyorrhea and decay. Send 4c to Senreco, 304 Walnut St., Cincinnati, Ohio, for liberal-sized trial package.

C. E. DISTRICT CONVENTION BEGINS SESSIONS TODAY

Meetings This Afternoon and Evening at Christian Church—Rally at Westminster Friday.

The twenty-sixth annual convention of the Jacksonville district Christian Endeavor union will begin this afternoon at 2:45 o'clock in Central Christian Church. The Rev. W. E. Spooner will lead a devotional service. Miss Fern Haigh will give the address of welcome, and Rev. George Williams of Beardstown will offer response. This will be followed by a business session, when reports will be given from the various societies. Tonight at 7:30 o'clock Rev. R. O. Post will lead the devotional service and Miss Esther Spooners will sing. An address "Endorsed for Service," will be given by the Rev. L. W. Bingham of Quincy.
Miss Frances Alkire will read, and after the program there will be a social hour. The district includes the counties of Cass, Greene, Jersey, Calhoun and Morgan. The program
Friday will be held in Northminster church.

A rally to which invitation is extended to all young people of the city will be held Friday night at Westminster Presbyterian church.
Westminster church has at this time
no Christian Endeavor organization, but young people of that congregation have shown great interest in the work and they will co-operate as individuals through the convention sessions. E. P. Gates of Chicago, general state secretary, will make a talk Friday evening, as he will also Friday afternoon.

Following are the present officers of the district:

President—Rev. Geo. Williams,
Beardstown, Ill.
Secretary—Miss Nettie M. Chris-tianer, Beardstown, Ill.
Treasurer—Rev. Arthur F. Ewert,

OLD JACKSONVILLE

A Forgotten Hero

By Ensley Moore.

Member Illinois State Historical Society.

It is a remarkable fact that it is difficult and sometimes impossible to get facts and details of the lives of too many of the pioneers of our region. The "Sanguine country" in "the Illinois" was one of the most colorful places in the United States, and it drew to it many a brave man
—and not less brave women—to lay the foundations of what we now enjoy. The "stories" of many of them have never been generally or fully told. Many of them stayed here but a short time, and moved on to where there was "more room," for people used to the untended prairie could not have people crowding up against them. They really, probably, had the wanderlust, many of them, but that made early settlements.

David Manchester

David Manchester was born in Warren Co., New York, in 1798, being of Revolutionary ancestry, his father, Thomas Manchester, having served in the patriot cause. Thomas received a wound for which he drew a pension in his later days. He was of English lineage.

David, while only a youth, served thirty days in the War of 1812, under Gen. Strong and Capt. Spencer—Manchester still living in his native county. He left home at the age of seventeen, and engaged in the lumber business. He soon decided to come west, and came to Fort Pitt, (Pittsburgh) Pa. There he purchased a skiff, and floated down the Ohio river to Shawneetown, Ill.
From there he went on foot to Min-ner Burton, below St. Louis, Mo. He worked in a lead mine there two years, and then walked to St. Louis, where he worked four months for $15 per month.

Mr. Manchester then took to his feet again, and came to this county, where he settled for the rest of his life. His farm was in Section five, township sixteen north, range eight west, in the Northeast part of Morgan county. When Mr. Manchester arrived here he had but a dollar in his pocket, but he had health, industry and enterprise and he made his way successfully as a farmer thereafter.

Split Rails For Shoes

The first thing Manchester did here was to split 500 rails for a pair of shoes. The leather being tanned here by Kasbier, in a trough, and the operation only removed half of the hair.

Our younger people probably do not realize that considerable cotton was raised in Illinois in the early days, and it was very fortunate for the early settlers that it could be done. Mr. Manchester raised some of this fibre, and took it to Beardstown where he traded it for some clothes.

In the Indian wars, of Black Hawk's time, Mr. Manchester's fighting blood led him again into the service of his country, and he was a member of Col. Ewing's 5th battalion. In this experience he often saw Gen. Zachary Taylor (afterward president), Abraham Lincoln and Jefferson Davis. He served under Gen.
Atkinson, and was discharged regularly by Major Robert Anderson, afterwards the hero of Ft. Sumter. He also served in the Mormon war.

When the call came for men to go to Mexico Mr. Manchester came forward, as chief musician under Col.
John J. Hardin, but becoming sick at Alton, he was sent back to Jacksonville and discharged.

Married Miss Cox

Mr. Manchester was married to Miss Ethia Linda Cox, June 12, 1825.
They made their home in a house which had once belonged to Mrs.
Manchester's father, to which she had come in her youth, and where most of her married life was spent.
Mrs. Manchester lived to a good old age, passing even beyond four score years.

Mr. and Mrs. Manchester were the parents of Thomas, Helen, Elizabeth, Louisa Van Rensselaer, James, David,
Jerome and Josephine.

Mrs. Manchester was born in Henry county, Va., Oct. 9, 1803, being the daughter of John and Jane (Prunty) Cox—who were natives of the same county. The Cox family first came west to Antion Co., Texas, but removed from there to southern Illinois in 1819. The next winter was spent near St. Louis, and in the spring of 1820 Mr. Cox came to this county and bought the homestead here. Later on he went to Iowa, which was his last earthly home.

Voted for Jas. Monroe

Mr. Manchester, with true patriotism, took a lively interest in politics. He, with his father-in-law, and another man, were the only three to vote for James Monroe in this county.

Mr. Manchester's long and arduous life was ended Sept. 6, 1878, but he was venerated as a pioneer, a good citizen, a patriot, "and a well loved friend."

Saw the Deep Snow

It goes without saying that Mr.
Manchester was here at the time of the "Deep Snow" in 1830-31. It is related that "they had to dig the corn out of the snow and dry it by the fire, when they took it to Hall's mill, where they had it ground. The only road they had was a sort of Indian trail, and once, when his brother-in-law had been to mill, his horse stepped from the path, and it was several hours before they could get him back, and got home, and they were nearly frozen when they got home." It is also said, referring to Mr. Manchester, that: "At the time he came here there were very few white people here, and the Indians were encamped all around here,
but they were friendly."

What They Went Thru

As stated in the beginning of this article it is hard for us, nowadays, to realize the hardships the first settlers endured. Later comers can tell of "staging it over the mountains," and of the long waits for steamboats and their slow journey down the Ohio and up here. But think of that lonely skiff-ride of hundreds of miles, of the long journey on foot, of working so hard for the simplest necessaries of life, and for the lowest wages! But it made men, and Illinois from the days of the Red men for whom it was named has been a land of MEN.

well worth looking forward to.

WILSON TO MARCH

IN FLAG PARADE

Washington, D. C., June 13.—At about the same hour that the Democratic national convention is getting together in St. Louis tomorrow to renominate him, President Wilson will be engaged in reviewing a preparedness parade in the national capital. The preparedness parade is to be combined with the local Flag Day celebration. In pomp and military display the combined demonstration promises to be not only one of the greatest spectacular events
Washington has witnessed recently,
but also one of the most significant.
The government departments have decided to close for the day, and most of the men and women in the service of Uncle Sam will participate in the parade. The president is to lead the paraders from the Peace Monument at the foot of Capitol Hill to the Post Office Department Building, a mile away. After drawing out of the line and reviewing the parade,
he will go to the Washington Monument lot to deliver an address at the annual Flag Day celebration.

MOORE FUNERAL TODAY

Funeral services for W. J. Moore will be held from the family residence, 403 South Prairie street this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Rev. F.
B. Madden, pastor of Grace church will be in charge. Interment will be in Diamond Grove cemetery.

DETECTIVES ASSIST POLICE IN SEARCH FOR MISSING MINISTER

DANVILLE, Ill., June 13.—Big Four detectives are assisting the police of this city, Crawfordville, Ind., and intervening towns in searching for the Rev. Edgar Johnson, a Map-tist minister who purchased a ticket at Crawfordville for this city Monday, June 5, and disappeared completely. The agent who sold the ticket identified a photograph of the minister, and altho the authorities have been searching over one week
no trace of him has been secured.
He filled a pulpit at Crawfordville the day before he disappeared. His disappearance is shrouded in mystery, there being no apparent reason for absenting himself voluntarily, and absolutely no evidence of foul play which his family suspects.

Clarence York was in Springfield

MEMORIES OF SPANISH WAR ARE REVIVED AT D. A. R. FLAG DAY

Observance Wednesday Evening at Home of Gates Strawn is Pleasurable Event—Chapter Presented Flag to Co. I in 1895.

Flag Day was observed by the Rev. James Caldwell chapter, D. A. R., Wednesday evening, with a 6:30 o'clock dinner at the home of Gates Strawn on Mound avenue. Members of the chapter and guests to the number of one hundred and forty were present for the dinner and patriotic program. Spanish war days were recalled when Mrs. Carl E. Black, the regent told of a meeting eighteen years ago at the home of Mrs. Gates Strawn, then regent of the chapter, when a silk flag was presented the boys of Co. I, 5th regiment, on the eve of their departure for the front. A clipping from the Journal of April, 1895, describing the presentation and the response of the captain, E. C. Vickery, was read by Mrs. A. L. Adams.

Supper Wednesday evening was served on the lawn of the beautiful Strawn home by E. C. Vickery of the Colonial Inn. Music was furnished by Randall's orchestra. An invocation was pronounced by the Rev. E. B. Landis. During the after dinner program, Mrs. William Barr Brown led in the singing of America and Julius Gates Strawn, responding to a request, read an ode to the flag. For the success of the observance much credit is due the committee, composed of Mrs. Lillian Woods King chairman; Mrs. J. A. Bellatti, Mrs. H. M. Capps, Mrs. George S. Gay, and Mrs. Howard Doan.

Miss He Trubue is custodian of the Rev. James Caldwell chapter and has charge of the flag which is displayed now in one of the rooms at the Strawn home, having been brought safely back by Major Vickery and his command at the close of the war.

Following is the letter of presentation read by Capt. Vickery to his company:

"To Capt. E. C. Vickery and company, I, Fifth Regiment.

"Once more has come to our land the call to protect this glorious emblem of our country, the American flag, the most beautiful of any in all the world, our companion, our pride and our protector. May it ever float with no star lost or dimmed. It is with pride and pleasure that we entrust to you this flag with its thirteen stars. It was not made for you but the time is short, so, endeared to us by association, we take it from our own door and proudly place it in your hands, feeling that in the memories of the past and in the duties of the present you will give the best of your loyal love and loyal service. May it be freighted with help and inspiration, blessed by the rich legacy of the early and noble deeds of those heroes of old; keep their memory green.

Who marched with the flag of the old thirteen.

"Regent and Daughters of the American Revolution, of the Rev. James Caldwell Chapter, Jacksonville, Ill., Mrs. Gates Strawn, Regent."

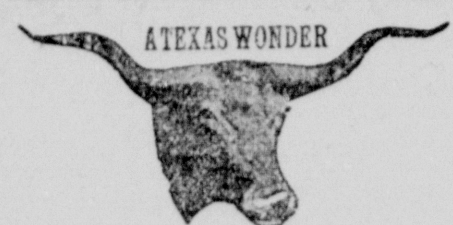

Capt. Vickery's Response.

The words of Capt. Vickery in accepting the flag were:

"We accept the flag and will carry it with us and bring it home safe. Last night I received the marching orders. As soon as I got them I promised the boys I would ring the court house bell, but did not think it best to do so until this morning. I was informed that if we arrived by Wednesday noon it would be soon enough and when they received word to report at headquarters they got there in a storm. I want to say to the mothers and all, that I have my boy in the company and will look after him and after them. As soon as the Maine was blown up the company seemed to take a boom and it has grown ever since. I think we should give three cheers for the mother, the sisters, the sweethearts of the boys and the Daughters of the Revolution."

GUESTS OF MRS. CURTIS TEMPLE.

Mrs. Eugene Osborne and son Forrest Lee of Perry, Okla., and sister Mrs. D. E. Piske of Bloomington who were called to the bedside of their father William Maroney of Litchfield hospital arrived in the city yesterday for a visit with their sister, Mrs. Curtis Temple of 227 East College avenue.

Mrs. Ralph W. Hutchison entertained the Priscilla club Wednesday afternoon at her home, 508 South Prairie street. There was a good attendance and after a time spent in sewing, refreshments were served.

FORT SHERIDAN WILL BE ILLINOIS' SUMMER CAPITAL. Springfield, Ill., June 14.—Fort Sheridan will be the summer capital of Illinois, beginning July 8, when Governor Dunne and his family will go into camp here. The occasion is the annual encampment with the regulars of a portion of the Illinois National Guard. The executive family will live in tents.

ENJOYED SOCIAL EVENT

The nurses and attendants' union at Jacksonville State hospital held the regular meeting Tuesday evening, when an excellent program was carried out. Music for dancing was furnished by Mr. Fisher, a member of the union, and there was in addition a social hour during which refreshments were served.

NEW ARMSTRONG DRUG STORE
TO HAVE OPENING TODAY

East State Street Establishment is Finely Equipped—A "Quality First" Store.

The new Armstrong drug store on East State street is to be opened formally today and in honor of that event the people of Jacksonville and surrounding territory have been extended a cordial invitation to be present. The store has been "doing business" for a number of weeks under the direction of E. L. Snyder, pharmacist, who is now a stockholder in the Armstrong Drug Co., incorporated, but as all the fixtures and the entire stock was not completed until recently, no formal opening was planned until today.

The East State street store has been the subject of a great deal of favorable comment by people of Jacksonville and visitors to the city. With the floor of mosaic tile and all the fixtures done in pure white, the interior presents a very beautiful appearance. At night this is enhanced by especially brilliant lighting, and so the store has rightly been classed as one of the very handsomest in this part of the state. It goes without saying that the fixtures are of the most modern type from a sanitary viewpoint, and that the stock carried accords in every way with the modern and high class interior of the store.

Since the original Armstrong drug store was established in the Farwell building at the southwest corner of the square, some years ago, the business has grown steadily from year to year, and considerable attention is paid to "jobbing" as well as retail trade. "Quality first" was taken as the slogan of the store by the owners, and this has been adhered to thru the years and has not been a mere phrase, for the public has come to understand that the term was strictly applicable to anything found in the Armstrong store. This same good rule will apply to store No. 2 on East State street, and "quality first" will always be the paramount issue there. For years Mr. Snyder, who is an especially well prepared pharmacist, has held a position in the original Armstrong store, and it was in recognition of his faithful service and ability that he was some time since sold some stock in the corporation. The public will find the store well worth a visit, and a cordial welcome from Mr. Snyder and his assistants awaits them.

ILLINOIS CLASS OF 1896 HAS TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Alumni and Their Wives Join in Pleasant Reunion—Absent Members Send Greeting.

Members of the class of 1896, Illinois college, gathered around the banquet table at the Colonial Inn Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock and tho a score of years has elapsed since the alumni present had studied on the hill, enthusiasm for "old Illinois" was none the less strong and the old times recalled showed how vividly were many of the incidents of twenty years ago remembered. There were present at the reunion Dr. and Mrs. George E. Baxter, Edward Clifford and Harry P. Scott of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Ivan W. Agee of Litchfield, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Fairbank, Sioux Falls, S. Dakota, and H. H. Bancroft, to whom much credit is due for the success of the undertaking, and Mrs. Bancroft.

Greetings were read from C. B. Bourke of El Paso, Tex., A. C. DeBary, Rupert, Idaho, and H. N. Kuechler of San Francisco, Cal. The only member of the class not heard from was Dr. H. F. Moore of Bethel, Conn.

"Greetings to '96, wish I could be with you," were the words sent by telegram from Mr. Kuechler. Mr. Bourke was prevented from attending by his duties with the Associated Press on the Mexican border and his message expressed great regret. Mr. Bourke was a captain of the football team in his college days and in the telegram to Mr. Bancroft he said, "Would that I could kick a few goals for the glory of old Illinois and '96 tonight. The toe and the eye are still accurate but the former raven locks are shorter and gray predominant. War dogs gnawing at Uncle Sam's threshold have required my attention since the Columbus massacre and prevent Mrs. Bourke and myself from being present for the twentieth anniversary. We regret it keenly. Extend our well wishes to the best bunch that ever left college hill, to their wives and all friends present. Speak kindly of the absent is all I ask, the fault is not mine."

In his telegram from Idaho Mr. DeBary said, "Fellow classmates: over a stretch of twenty years, greetings from distant Idaho. Recollections of many exciting college events have crowded thru my mind the past few days. I have just recently forgiven Fairbank for deserting and escaping down town while I held the Dowdle pack at bay before they put me to bed. In a year or so will perhaps be able to pardon Clifford for having me fired from the dorm for kicking the waste box down two flights of stairs."

ATTENTION MATT STARR POST G. A. R.

The members of Matt Starr Post G. A. R., are requested to meet at the post hall at 2:30 this p. m. for the purpose of attending the funeral of Comrade W. J. Moore. All veterans invited to attend.

DUAL CLASS ORGANIZATION

Members of the 1916 class of Illinois college and of the 1914 class held a meeting in Sturtevant Hall Wednesday following the commencement exercises, and organized the Dual Class League. It is the intention to hold reunions from time to time and the occasions promise great interest because the members of these two classes were on especially intimate terms during their college course. Officers were elected as follows:

Henry Stotlar, '14, president, Mt. Vernon.

Arthur Gustafson, '16, vice president, Virginia.

Edward Alexander, '16, secretary-treasurer, Jacksonville.

AT EAGLES' CONVENTION

The Rock Island Argus has the following story in its issue Tuesday relative to Mrs. Frank U. Correa, who accompanied her husband, Worthy State President of the Eagles, to Rock Island for the state convention:

"While the Eagles are in convention, the women, more than 100 of whom have accompanied the delegates to Rock Island, are having a delightful time as guests of Ladies' auxiliary No. 1. One of the distinguished guests who is receiving a great deal of attention and admiration is a June bride, Mrs. Della Fitzgerald-Correa of Jacksonville, wife of the state president of Eagles. They were married June 1 at Hannibal, Mo., and they are attending the convention as part of their honeymoon. Mrs. Correa announces that she will be at home to her friends in Jacksonville after June 15.

M. YEERRY WALTER DIED AT HOME HERE WEDNESDAY

Deceased was Long Time Resident of the Community—Other Deaths.

J. Mayberry Walter died at his home, 137 West Chambers street, Wednesday at noon. Mr. Walter had been ill for seven weeks of diabetes but his health had been failing for several months.

James Mayberry Walter was the son of George and Julia Johnson Walter and was born in Luray, Shenandoah county, Virginia, November 29, 1836. When he was one year of age his parents moved to Illinois and Morgan county has been his home since that time.

April 15, 1863, he was united in marriage to Sarah F. Westrope of near Scottville. Mrs. Walter preceded him in death Feb. 5, 1911.

The children surviving are: Mrs. Clara Mann and Harry Walter who reside at the family home and Mrs. Mabel Hunter of the Sinclair neighborhood. One daughter Lena died twenty years ago. He is survived by one granddaughter, Miss Ethel Mann, who resides at the family home and one brother, Edward Walter of Silcam Springs, Ark., and one sister, Miss Maria Walter of Ebenezer neighborhood. The following brothers and sisters preceded him in death, Mrs. Margaret Smith, Mrs. Mahala Blackburn, Mrs. Devarias Rowson, Julia Walter and Harvey Walter.

During all his life until twelve years ago Mr. Walter followed the occupation of farming and he was counted one of the successful farmers of the county. For ten years after his marriage he resided in the Orleans neighborhood. He then removed to the Sinclair neighborhood. He resided there until twelve years ago. Then on account of poor health of Mrs. Walter he purchased the property at 137 West Chambers street and moved to the city where he has since resided.

Mr. Walter was a member of the Methodist church, first holding membership in Salem church. Eight years ago during the Billy Sunday meetings he united with Centenary church. He was for 49 years a member of Urania Lodge No. 243 I. O. O. F. and was one of the oldest members of the lodge.

Mr. Walter was a man upright and honest in his dealings. He was a good neighbor and a true friend and his death is a distinct loss to the community.

Funeral services will be held from the residence, 137 West Chambers street Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock with interment in Diamond Grove cemetery.

CIRCUIT COURT SUITS FILED

John M. Butler has brought a suit for divorce in behalf of Mary F. Waid against John W. Waid. Desertion is the charge made. The complainant and defendant were married at Sullivan, Mo., March 25, 1891, and lived together until January, 1907.

The praecipe has been filed in a damage suit brought by Frank and Helena Zahn, as administrators of the estate of Peter Zahn, against William Zahn. The amount of the damages asked is $10,000. Parker & Dickinson are the attorneys for the complainant.

SOUGHT DEATH WHILE HE WAS MENTALLY UNBALANCED

This Was Verdict of Jury Which Investigated Suicide of W. J. Moore.

The coroner's jury empaneled to inquire into the cause of the death of William J. Moore, met Wednesday morning. After hearing the testimony of witnesses, the jury returned a verdict that death was caused by asphyxiation by gas with suicidal intent while in an unbalanced mental condition.

The jury was composed of the following: T. H. Rapp, foreman; W. C. Howe, J. F. Self, I. E. Worfolk, W. H. Kithner and E. G. Clark. Only four witnesses were called before the jury, L. E. Sitherwood who rooms at the Gilbert home, Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Moore and Dr. Allan M. King.

In his testimony Mr. Sitherwood told of rooming at the Gilbert home. He went there about 3:30 Tuesday afternoon and detected the smell of gas. Witness said he sat down and read for some time and contracted a headache. He began to search for the source of the gas odor and when he reached the bath room door he could plainly hear the gas escaping from an instantaneous water heater. He called the police department and the door was forced and the body of Mr. Moore was found lying on the floor. Witness said Mr. Moore had stopped all of the crevices with newspaper and locked the door.

Mrs. Charles Moore testified that her mother-in-law, Mrs. W. J. Moore, had called her son and told him that his father was missing. According to the testimony, Mr. Moore had been working in the garden and told his wife that he believed he would go into the house. That was the last seen of him until his body was found in the Gilbert home.

Dr. Allan M. King testified that he had received a telephone call about 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon that a man was in a dying condition at the Gilbert home. Upon his arrival he was told by Officer Kiloran that it was thought the man was dead. Witness said he ascended the stairs and upon entering the bathroom found the body of William J. Moore. Dr. King gave it as his opinion that death had occurred several hours before the body was found.

The testimony of Charles K. Moore substantiated what had been told by the other witnesses. He said that his father had been in bad mental condition for several months and they had been watching him closely to prevent him making an attempt to take his own life.

CELEBRATES EIGHTY EIGHTH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. John C. Sargent who resides with her son, John A. Sargent four miles west of the city, celebrated her eighty eighth birthday Wednesday in a very quiet manner. Mrs. Sargent was the recipient of many beautiful birthday cards and flowers. She is in excellent health, and says she does not feel at all old. Her grand daughter, Mrs. Ernest Jones, and her guest, Miss Ruth Elmore of the Dublin neighborhood were present to help celebrate the occasion.

EVERYBODY HAS A HOBBY.

And the FORD hobby is LOW first cost, LOW cost of upkeep. Greater distribution, greater efficiency and efficiency does not stop in the manufacture of the car. But, it extends to every line of business and to all classes of people. EFFICIENCY COUNTS. For example: If you are always on the job and always on time, that is efficiency. And you can DO IT with a Ford. A Ford in every home, is our slogan.
